Reply to Come About Gouzenko

Prime Minister Is Expected to Outline His Position

Ottawa, Nov. 25 (AP)—Canada appeared ready today to announce formally that U. S. Senate investigators can question ex-Russian Igor Gouzenko any time they want—but that the questioning may finger him for the Communists he exposed in 1946.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, in a statement to Parliament (about 2:30 p. m. EST) this afternoon, was scheduled to outline his government's reply to a second request from a U. S. Senate Internal Security Subcommittee for an opportunity to question Gouzenko, former Soviet embassy clerk who revealed a Russian spy ring operating in Canada.

Unofficial sources speculated that arrangements might be made for a secret meeting between Gouzenko and a subcommittee representative somewhere in Canada. It apparently would be up to Gouzenko whether he wanted to run the risk of exposure by attending.

Tells New Position

Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson outlined his government's new position on the Gouzenko request yesterday. He told the United Nations Correspondents Association in New York Gouzenko could, if he wished, go any place in the United States or Canada to talk to American investigators.

But if he does, Pearson added, Canada can no longer guarantee his safety or that of his family. Gouzenko, his wife and three children have been living under an assumed name and the protection of Canada's famed mounted police since he fled the Russian embassy in Ottawa in 1946. He is now a Canadian citizen.

Pearson expressed confidence that the international tug-of-war over the former Soviet embassy clerk would be cleared up to the satisfaction of both countries. U. S. Secretary of State Dulles told a Washington news conference yesterday he doubted the issue would put a lasting strain on U. S.-Canadian friendship.

To Disclose Identity

St. Laurent also was due to disclose the identity of the "highly" placed Canadian who U. S. Atty. Gen. Brownell last week said questioned the loyalty of the late Harry Dexter White in a communication to the U. S. government in 1946.

Pearson said St. Laurent would have an "interesting" document to disclose about this. The foreign secretary also declared Canada felt Brownell should not have brought the matter up without the Canadian government's agreement.

Brownell had told the Senate Security Subcommittee headed by Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) that FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover warned the Truman administration, in a letter sent to the White House Feb. 4, 1946, that a top-ranking Canadian had expressed alarm over the appointment of White to a high post in the International Monetary Fund.

Filed by Subcommittee

The two requests to question Gouzenko were filed by Jenner's subcommittee, which is seeking to find out whether the ex-Russian has any new evidence bearing on Soviet espionage in the United States. Canadian authorities rejected the first request, asserting the former embassy clerk had nothing new to say. Published reports that Gouzenko himself said he might be able to help U. S.

Decoration Planned for Brave PWs

Air Force Would Honor Those Who Endured Torture Rather Than Tell Falsehoods

Washington, Nov. 23 (AP)—The air force is considering decorating or giving some other recognition to former war prisoners who resisted torture and refused to make false confessions for Communist propagandists.

A spokesman said today that official recommendation of such action must await completion of a detailed study of the individual case of each man — those who didn't confess as well as those who did.

Not until all evidence is sifted can "the people who deserve it be selected," the spokesman emphasized.

Such recognition presumably would go to five airmen who refused to succumb to pressure by the enemy—Lt. John Streit of South Orange, N. J.; M/Sgt. George Morar of Rockville, Md.; Capt. William Preston of Batavia, N. Y.; Captain Zach Dean of Douglass, Kan., and Capt, William McTaggart of East Brady, Pa.

May Hear More Heroism

In the course of interrogating other former prisoners, more cases of heroism probably will come to light.

Regulations apparently would make appropriate any one of several decorations, among them the Legion of Merit, for outstanding service; the Soldier's Medal, for heroism involving voluntary risk of life; the Bronze Star, for outstanding service or heroism, and the Commendation Ribbon, for mertiorious achievement or service.

Under military regulations, any officer or other member of the armed forces can suggest recognition. Normally, the formal recommendation is forwarded by the immediate commander, but in these instances the initiation may come from higher levels in the Pentagon.

While a policy for dealing with the men who refused to confess is crystallizing, the problem of what to do about the others remains unsolved. It may be months before the scrutiny of each case is completed.

To Study All Cases

Secretary of Defense Wilson announced at the time the men were repatriated that the Pentagon would make "every effort to investigate and establish what happened to these men while they were prisoners." He said each case would be studied for any "unreasonable failure to measure up to the standard of individual conduct which is expected even of a prisoner of war."

Morale and discipline are at stake in the problem.

First, there is the morale of the former prisoners themselves, who must wait for months before they know how their military careers and records will be affected.

22 Are Problem

Then, there is the problem of what to do with the former prisoners still in uniform; what assignments to give them while they mark time?

Also involved is the matter of 22 army soldiers who so far have refused to come home from enemy hands, preferring to live with the Communists. There originally were 23, but Cpl. Ed Dickenson changed his mind and has returned to his home in Cracker's Neck, Va.

Should these 22 men be classed

Stassen Says Aid Cuts Can Be Made for Europe

Special Report Is Sent to Committees on Military and Economic Assistance

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Foreign Aid Director Harold Stassen has informed Congress it will be possible to make "a considerable reduction" in American military aid to western Europe next year. He said that economic aid, with a few exceptions, can be ended.

Stassen set out these conclusions in a special report he sent to four congressional committees on Nov. 16. A summary of his letter was made public today by the Foreign Operations Administration.

By "next year," Stassen had reference to the next government fiscal year—the 12 months beginning next July 1.

His report to Congress summed up his views after attending a meeting of the 17-nation organization for European economic cooperation.

Stassen gave no estimates as to the size of reductions he believed might be possible. Western Europe was allotted $2,250,000,000 of the $4,531,500,000 in new funds which Congress appropriated for military and economic help during the present fiscal year.

He expressed belief American aid of some kind will have to continue to Spain, Greece and Turkey, and to France for the Indo-China war during the year beginning next July 1.

He said all four countries either do not have adequate resources to maintain their defense efforts or would be hurt by inflation if they received no outside aid.

Recovery Is Favorable

Looking at western Europe as a whole, Stassen said recovery reports are "uniformly favorable—more so in some cases than in others."

Western Europe's industrial output has increased 7 per cent over last year, he said, with Germany, Italy, Britain and the Netherlands leading the way.

Further, gold and dollar reserves bolstering west European currencies increased from $9,300,000,000 to $11,000,000,000 between last Jan. 1 and Sept. 30.

Stassen said the European governments have recently adopted measures which should step up intra-European trade and provide for "greater mobility of manpower" to meet labor shortages in some countries.

"I also have the definite sense," he said, "that there was an upturn in friendliness and warmth toward the United States this past month in Europe."

Ulster Residents Meet to Talk on Water District

Would Be More Extensive Than Previous Plan Because of IBM, More Homes

A meeting of residents of the town of Ulster was held last evening at the Ulster Hose No. 5 firehouse to discuss a new petition for formation of a water district in the town north of Kingston city.

A prior petition was withdrawn some time ago because of the language of the petition which would not have been acceptable to the state. That petition was drawn in such a way that the basis of assessment in the district would have been in accordance with the benefits derived and not in accordance wtih the assessed valuation, or as the state outlines "ad valorem" basis.

The meeting last evening was called by Percy Bush and was attended by residents representing the various areas which it is contemplated will be included in the water district as well as representatives of organizations, including Ulster Hose Company No. 5.

More Extensive

At the meeting the topic of establishing a water district which would include a larger territory than was proposed in the first petition was discussed.

With the coming of the IBM to the town of Ulster, citizens of the area realize that there will be a very large increase in population in the near future and one of the topics under discussion was how to take care of this.

It was proposed that the bounds of the water district be extended to the Leggs Mills area and also up to the "old stage" road to the north. Facts and figures will have to be compiled anew and this proposition was discussed. Various problems in relation to the establishment of the new enlarged district were discussed and ideas were sought.

Officials Attend

This preliminary meeting was attended by representatives of the Health Department, the engineers who worked out the original plan and representatives from

Will Count Ballots

The Board of Elections at 10 a. m. Friday, Nov. 27, will begin publicly to count and canvass the military ballots received after Election Day and no later than 10 a. m. on Nov. 27. This is under provisions of Chapter 382, Laws of 1953, Section 310, Subdivision 3.

Israel Is Rebuked For Killing Arabs In Jordan Village

Both Sides Protest Act by Security Council, Since They Do Not Belong

United Nations, Nov. 25 (AP)—Ignoring Israeli appeals, the UN Security Council by a 9-0 vote last night rebuked the Jewish state for the killing of 53 Arabs in Jordan's Kibya village and called on her to see that such actions do not happen again.

The resolution — sponsored by the United States, Britain and France — brought protests from both Jordan and Israel they do not belong to the Council and have no vote there.

Israeli delegate Abba Eban charged that the censure was loaded in favor of Jordan and warned that it might torpedo the direct Israeli-Jordan talks his government has demanded.

Sources close to Jordan labelled the resolution a "milk-sop" which merely chided Israel and did nothing to punish her.

Malik Abstains

Charles Malik of Lebanon, only Arab member of the 11-nation council, abstained on the vote along with Russia. Malik explained to reporters later that he felt the resolution was not nearly strong enough and did not call for compensation to families of the Kibya victims.

Israeli derived some consolation, however, from the big three's last minute change in their resolution to take note of Eban's invoking of Article 12 of the Israel-Jordan armistice agreement to summon both parties to obligatory peace talks. One Israeli source said this was the only constructive result of the long, bitter Kibya discussion.

UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was reported arranging with Jordan for a time and place for the projected talks. Arab sources indicated that Jordan, which ignored an earlier informal request for talks, would heed the UN summons.

Makes Effort

Eban made a last ditch effort last night to stave off the censure vote. He appealed to the Council to think twice before it voted a censure which would "do nothing to advance the cause of Middle East peace" and merely took account of the "violent acts of the immediate past."

He said that the Arabs would

Trumanism Acts Cited By Senator

Declares Ex-President Placed Party Before Welfare of Nation at Any Cost

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy says the Truman administration was "crawling with Communists."

In his formal rebuttal to former President Harry S. Truman, McCarthy charges that Truman—while a U. S. senator and vice presidential candidate—intervened against the dismissal from government service of George Shaw Wheeler, who later deserted to communism.

McCarthy says that after Truman became President, Wheeler was reinstated, although he had been dismissed as a Communist.

The senator gives this description on what he calls "Trumanism":

"The placing of your political party above the interest of the country, regardless of how much the country is damaged thereby."

Praising the Eisenhower administration's efforts to rid the government service of subversives, he added however:

"Let us glance at a few cases where our (Republicans) batting average is zero—where we struck out."

Davies Is Named

As an example he cites John Paton Davies, who he says helped deliver China into Communist hands.

The Wisconsin Republican senator addressed a nationwide television and radio audience last night in answer to Truman who had assailed "mcCarthyism" in a TV-radio speech a week ago Monday night in connection with the Harry Dexter White controversy.

Truman was reported asleep in bed at his Independence, Mo., home last night an hour before McCarthy went on the air at 11 p. m. (EST).

Nor was there any immediate comment on McCarthy's speech from President Eisenhower, who is at Augusta, Ga., for the Thanksgiving holiday.

In his reference to the handling of Communists in government, McCarthy said in his speech that he is somewhat concerned that the Republican party "might also fall victim to the same evil which beset the Democrat Party and did so much toward destroying this nation."

Referred by Indictment

Speaking of Davies, McCarthy said:

"He was unanimously refered by the McCarran Committee to the Justice Department for indictment because he lied under oath about his activities in trying to put Communists and espionage agents in key spots in the Central Intelligence Agency. Why is this man still a high official in our government?"

Davies, a career diplomat, now is serving as counselor at the U.S. Embassy at Lima, Peru. The State Department sent him there last May after he had been shifted from his post as adviser to the U.S. High Commisioner in Germany. Davies was cleared by the Loyalty Review Board during the Truman administration, and later was questioned again by the board. He had been assailed by McCarthy before last night's speech.

McCarthy also took the Republican administration to task because there has been no accounting of 900 Americans who are known to have been taken prisoner in the Korean war and who never returned. He said the Eisenhower administration is not responsible for the situation, but is responsible for its proper handling.

McCarthy, declaring his fight against communism in government to be an issue in the 1954 election campaign, said:

"The raw, harsh, unpleasant fact is that communism is an issue and will be an issue in 1954.

Would Not Be Issue

"It would not be an issue be-

May Buy New Yorker

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—Hilton Hotels Corp. has reportedly offered 12½ million dollars for the 2,500-room New Yorker hotel, second largest hotel in the nation. Negotiations for the purchase of the New Yorker by the Hilton chain are currently under way here. A major participant in the discussions is the Manufacturers Trust Company of New York which has a $5,300,000 interest in the hotel. Acquisiton of the New Yorker would give the Hilton group the two biggest hotels in the United States. The largest is the 3,000-room Conrad Hilton in Chicago.

Elizabeth, Duke Are Acclaimed by Jamaica Throng

First Visit by Monarch Is Paid to Populous Colony; Seen as Blow to Reds

Montego Bay, Jamaica, Nov. 25 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh, landed on this British West Indies island today and received a tremendous welcome. It was the first visit by a reigning monarch to this populous rum, banana and sugar colony.

The sleek blue double-decker stratocruiser taking the royal party on the first lap of a globe-girdling British Commonwealth tour arrived from Bermuda at 9:52 a. m. EST. The Queen and her husband attended a round of ceremonies in Bermuda yesterday and spent the night there, taking off for Jamaica early today.

The big plane flying the royal standard landed at the airport of this beach resort, where hundreds of Americans vacation each year.

Governor Is Present

Sir Hugh Foot, the colonial governor, was on hand to greet the queen, having arrived last night with representatives of other British West Indies colonies. Also present was William A. Bustamante, labor leader who is now unchallenged political leader of this colony.

After a brief welcoming ceremony at the airport, the Queen and her husband were to visit Montego Bay, then drive along a narrow 125-mile mountain highway to Kingston, the colonial capital.

The royal visit to Jamaica is expected to be an important occasion at this time because of Communist efforts to create unrest in the colonies and agitation by many colonials for greater independence.

Jackson Gives Greeting

Among those greeting the royal party was Brig. A. C. F. Jackson, who recently took his Royal Fusileers Regiment from Jamaica to British Guiana to help preserve order after the London government had accused leftist colonial politicians of planning to turn that colony into a Communist state.

The royal party will spend three days in Jamaica before proceeding westward by ship through the Panama canal to British dominions and possessions in the Pacific.

The Queen and her husband had risen before dawn for an early takeoff from Bermuda.

Cole Reports Collision

Milton Cole, of 88 Hoffman street, proprietor of Cole's Fish Market, 5 Abeel street, notified police yesterday that his station wagon was struck by a hit-and-run driver as it was parked on Post street. The complaint was made at 5:45 p. m., and Cole said the vehicle had been there since about 1:30 p. m. Cole told Officers Harold DeGraff and Edward Edwards, who investigated, he had been informed that a trailer truck tried to turn into Post street at about 4 p. m. Particles of red paint were found on the station wagon and a reflector had caught in a door, the report said.

The 17th annual stage show and ball sponsored by Congregation Ahavath Israel will be held tonight at municipal auditorium with five all-star acts of entertainment plus dancing to the music of Claude Thornhill, his piano and orchestra.

Doors to the auditorium will open at 7 p. m. and the Thornhill band will play a concert at 8:30 p. m. The entertainment, headed by Al Bernie, master of ceremonies, starts at 9 p. m.

Dancing will follow until 1:30 a. m.

Living Cost Boost Brings More Pay

Million Auto Workers Will Get 2 Cents Extra Hourly

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—The government reported today that living costs edged up a bit in the month ending in mid-October — assuring a million CIO auto workers of a two-cent-an-hour wage increase.

The increase, of two-tenths of one per cent during the month, brought the index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics to another record high for the fifth month in a row. It stood at 115.4 per cent of the 1947-49 average, or 1.1 per cent above a year ago.

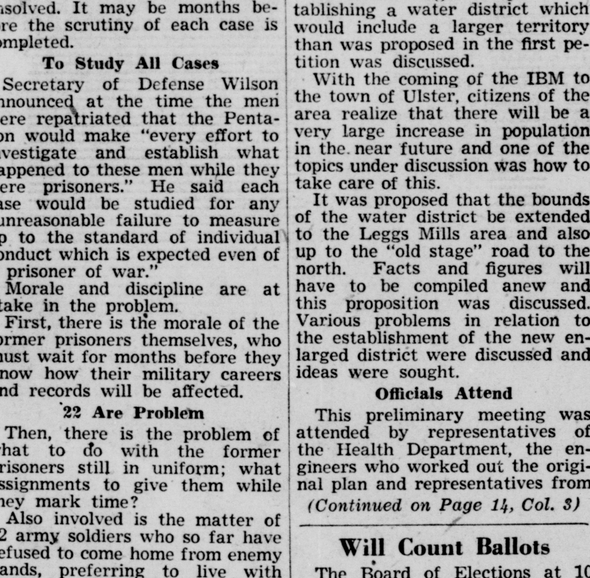

Despite the new living cost increase, Commissioner Ewan Clague of the bureau said the nation's inflationary period appeared to be at an end. He said that lower food prices are likely in the coming winter months and may bring the overall living cost levels down from their present peak.

Fluctuation Expected

"I think the index will fluctuate within narrow limits," Clague

Police Arrest 18-Year-Old; Say He Confessed to Assault

Viola, Nov. 24 (AP)—Police have arrested an 18-year-old youth for brutally beating a woman and wrecking two homes in a wild spree that terrorized parts of Rockland county.

Police identified the youth yesterday as Peter Galleher, of Spring Valley. He was questioned for 12 hours before he broke down, police said.

Galleher was unable to explain his destructive actions except that he had been drinking wine, Police Chief Abe Stern of Spring Valley reported.

Stern said Galleher admitted beating Mrs. Howard D. Barnett, 52, the sick wife of an official at the Lederle Pharmaceutical Laboratories, Pearl River.

The assailant broke into the Barnett home on Monday by smashing a glass door panel and unhooking the latch. He found Mrs. Barnett, who was recovering from pneumonia, on the stairway and beat her with a sawed-off shotgun.

She suffered fractures of the skull, leg and arm, but was able to knock the telephone receiver off the hook and appeal to the operator for help. Her condition was reported as fair.

Before leaving the Barnett home, the youth had smashed a television set, light bulbs, and other electrical appliances.

Similar destruction was found in a neighboring house, where jewels valued at $2,000 were also missing.

The usual pattern of destruction led police to start a search for a "teen-aged maniac" whose possible presence in the area put nearby residents on their guard. They barred their doors and in some cases armed themselves with shotguns.

He was arraigned on a charge of assault and held for grand jury action.

The youth had apparently been living for several days in a closed summer hotel, Pinewood Castle Hotel, near Spring Valley. Electrical equipment and a television set there had been smashed.

Officials Sure Korea Done Fighting Unless WW3 Starts

Tokyo, Nov. 25 (AP)—Top American officials in the Orient are convinced there will be no more fighting in Korea unless something touches off World War 3.

At the same time, they see little chance now for peaceful unification of Korea since the treaty signed this week between Red China and North Korea in effect moved China's border southward almost to Parallel 38.

South Korea's President Syngman Rhee has threatened to order his 16 American-trained divisions northward unless a peace conference makes progress toward uniting his country by Jan. 27—six months after the Korean armistice was signed.

But generals and diplomats who have visited Korea during the past month say Rhee will not reopen the war.

They cite these reasons for their belief:

1. Rhee has been told the United States will withdraw its forces from Korea if he rekindles the war.

2. ROK forces have only enough ammunition for six days if the United States shuts off the quartermaster supply faucets.

3. Rhee wouldn't risk losing almost a billion dollars in U. S. aid.

It is generally understood in higher circles here that responsible United States representatives have made it plain to Rhee that Uncle Sam is not interested in fighting another war in Korea, especially a war of containment.

Therefore, it is understood, Rhee has been told if he reopens the Korean conflict, which was stopped on July 27, the U. S. would get out.

The only thing that would make the U. S. troops go into action in Korea again would be for the Communists to start shooting. In that case American doughboys,

No Freeman Thanksgiving Day

There will be no publication of The Kingston Daily Freeman on Thursday, November 26 in observance of Thanksgiving Day.

Pledge Your Eyes Drive Continues

The season of Thanksgiving is with us again. As you sit quietly in your home just close your eyes for five minutes and think how it would be if you had to live the rest of your life in total darkness. Thousands of persons in America are doing just that. Many of these people can have their sight restored through the miracle of cornea transplants.

When you open your eyes and see all the wonderful things in this world you should be thankful to God for this the gift of sight. You can help some unfortunate person by donating your eyes to the Sight Conservation Society of Northeastern New York so that your eyes may live after your death.

The Lions Club of Kingston is conducting a campaign to secure eye pledges from persons after their death. This program will continue through November 28. However, donations of eyes can be made at any time.

The miracle of restoring sight by means of cornea transplants takes place within hours after the death of the donor. The eyes must be removed within three hours after death and are good for transplants up to 36 hours after removal.

Due to modern embalming methods the removal of the eyes will in no way mar the appearance of the deceased person.

The Kingston Lions Club has received over 200 pledges in this campaign. They point out, however, that many more pledges are needed at the present time to carry out this wonderful work. The demand for eyes far exceeds the supply at the present time.

The condition of the eyes of the donor or the thickness of the glasses does not matter. If the eyes cannot be used for cornea transplants they are used by scientists to discover and prevent diseases of the eyes. It is not necessary for the donor to have his eyes examined before signing the pledge card.

If you would like to share in this wonderful work please fill out and mail the coupon inserted in this issue of the Freeman. Additional pledge cards may be secured from any member of the Lions Club or from Mr. George Svirsky, 324 Wall street, Kingston, N. Y. Mail your pledge today.

Appeal Is Made For Greer School

Jay LeFevre, New Paltz business man, is making an appeal to his Ulster friends and neighbors on behalf of homeless children now being cared for and educated at Greer School, Hope Farm, Dutchess county.

In the letter he is sending out LeFevre remarks: "It is a sound American tradition that when a neighbor is in distress all the neighbors come to offer their help. In Ulster county we honor that tradition." He then points out that: "Greer School, at Hope Farm, Dutchess county, is one of our neighbors and has been for 47 years. Apart from being a school, Greer is a home for 200 boys and girls whose own home has been wrecked by death, illness and other causes."

Noting that in the past few years a number of boys and girls from broken homes in Ulster have been cared for by Greer, LeFevre invites his correspondents to visit Greer at Hope Farm and see for themselves "with what affectionate care these homeless children are being brought up . . . fed, clothed, educated, trained vocationally and spiritually to become healthy-bodied and healthy-minded men and wamen."

He concludes his letter urging all Ulster people, "Do make friends with these uprooted children. Send them a neighborly gift—let your heart decide how much."

230,000 Veterans Of Korean War Are Using GI Bill

During the first 15 months of the Korean GI Bill training program, about 230,000 post-Korean veterans have enrolled in the nation's classrooms, on-the-job training benches and on-farm training programs, according to F. William Sheehan, officer in charge, at the office of the Veterans Administration, 286 Fair street.

Of this number less than 4,000 or only one and one-half per cent, have made the one-and-only change of program allowed under the law. The remaining 98½ per cent have stayed with their original goals.

Sheehan said it is too early to tell definitely whether this trend is going to be permanent. Some veterans haven't been in training long enough to decide whether they want to change programs. But the extremely small percentage of those who have changed seems to indicate, that post-Korean veterans have a clear picture of where they are going and how they plan to get there.

3,000 a Month

Sheehan said another indication that post-Korean veterans are making serious use of their Korean GI training benefit is the fact they are applying to VA for vocational counseling at the rate of more than 3,000 a month. Counseling, which is optional, consists of tests and interviews designed to help the veteran better understand his capabilities and aptitudes, so that he may be in a better position to make a sound choice of training program.

The Korean GI bill permits a veteran to make no more than one change of program, under any circumstances.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Sheehan at 286 Fair street, or by calling Kingston 5180.

Treasure Chest Not So Valuable

Lakeland, Fla., Nov. 25 (AP)—A man who claimed he found buried treasure under the Suwannee river is now talking about 30 coins of little value instead of thousands worth a fabulous half million dollars or more.

William F. Sneed Jr., a coin collector and hotel operator, said last night the story of a treasure find he told 24 hours earlier in Jacksonville was "misinterpreted."

"I had around 15 doubloons and 15 gold pieces," Sneed said here. He said they did not have too much value but they were found in the vicinity of the Suwannee.

Paper Backs Accuracy

The Florida Times-Union at Jacksonville said its story was accurately written by a reporter who quoted Sneed as saying he found 4,500 Spanish gold doubloons and 3,500 silver pieces of eight worth over $600,000.

A radio-television interpreter at Jacksonville said Sneed also told substantially the same story as that which appeared in the Times-Union. Tommy Tucker of WMBR and WMBR-TV said Sneed told him he found about 8,000 coins in a barnacle-crusted chest under the Suwannee river and they were worth about $300,000.

Both newspaper and radio interviewers said Sneed told them he found the treasure last Saturday under several feet of water near the mouth of the Suwannee.

Last night Sneed, however, said the coins were found about three weeks ago near the Suwannee.

Tax Collectors to Take $100,000 on Inaugural

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—The celebrations in connection with President Eisenhower's inauguration were amusements, in the eyes of the tax collector, and Washington charities stand to lose about $100,000 as a result.

This became known today when the inaugural committee headed by Joseph C. McGarraghy, Washington lawyer, reported a net profit of about $100,000 on tickets for the main events—the parade, two inaugural balls and festivals.

This profit will be allocated soon to various local charities, according to custom. But McGarraghy said a like amount has already been paid to the government under the 20 per cent amusement tax. This otherwise would have gone to charity.

Until four years ago Congress passed bills specifically exempting inaugural ceremony receipts from tax. Early in 1949 after the Truman inaugural such a bill passed the House but failed in the Senate by three votes, with six Democrats helping Republicans defeat it.

Killed by Senate

Melvin D. Hildreth, another Washington lawyer, who headed the Truman Inauguration Committee, said there was an understanding beforehand that the exemption would be approved, but the Senate voted it down.

Hence, he told a reporter today, the 1949 inaugural committee had to pay a tax of $68,000. A total of $62,500 was left for five local charities.

Democrat Hildreth talked over his tax experience recently with Republican McCarraghy, his close friend, the latter said today he decided not to ask for exemption legislation.

Washington business firms and citizens who underwrote $684,680 of the costs of the three-day Eisenhower ceremonies have had all of their advances refunded.

Mayor Stresses Spirit of Thanks

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk today issued a proclamation in behalf of local observance of Thanksgiving.

The first national Thanksgiving Day, he said, was observed on Nov. 26, 1789, and "we have been celebrating Thanksgiving annually since that time,"

The day, he stressed, "is set apart for thanksgiving to God for bountiful harvests and national mercies," and "I, Oscar V. Newkirk, Mayor of the City of Kingston, do ask all citizens on this Thanksgiving Day, 1953 to reflect upon the countless treasures we have received through the year, and, as we sit down to our Thanksgiving dinner joining ourselves to American History, to give thanks and praise to God for all He has given to us."

Cub Pack Forms At Central School

The organization of a Cub Pack in the Town of Marbletown began Monday evening at a meeting of interested parents held in the Marbletown Central School at Stone Ridge.

A second meeting of parents for the purpose of further organization is scheduled for Monday evening, November 30, at 8 p. m. at the school building.

Scout Executive George V. Dennis of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced that definite progress had been accomplished at the Monday meeting, with volunteers available for cubmaster, den mothers, and pack committeemen.

The local scout executive further pointed out that a survey in the Marbletown school had revealed a potential of 71 boys of Cub Scout age enrolled at the school.

The Monday meeting included a one-night course on the basic fundamentals of the Cub Scout movement, and the meeting scheduled for November 30 will consider Pack organization and will attempt to inaugurate the first Cub Pack in the township. A meeting place for the monthly Pack meetings has already been offered by a sponsoring institution.

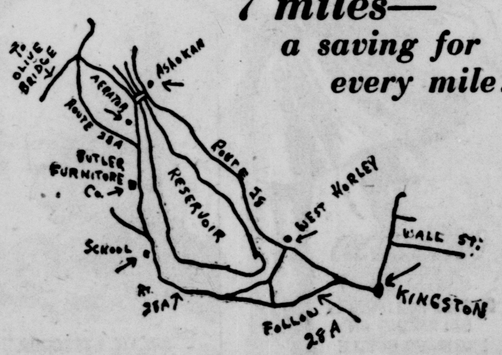

All interested parents in the Town of Marbletown are urged to attend the November 30 meeting at the school building at 8 p. m.

AMERICANS SHOULD BE THANKFUL

For Americans this Thanksgiving, there is one great thing to be thankful for. The fighting in Korea is over, and the shedding of the blood of our youth has stopped.

It may be a long time before we wring from the Communists anything more satisfactory than the armed truce we now have in Korea. But that, plus our countless other political problems, we can bear.

It is enough to know that after three years of frustrating combat, American homes across the land are no longer receiving tragic telegrams from the Defense Department which begin: "We regret to inform you that your son, John . . ."

Americans never have been for peace at any price. But they clearly prefer stalemated diplomatic negotiations to a stalemated war that goes on and on sapping the lives of their young men without materially advancing the national security.

Cold war, we have learned, can be maddening. It can eat away our substance, fray our nerves, unravel our patience. But it does not kill.

So we must offer up our prayer of thanks that we have left off killing and being killed.

At this moment, we should not forget, too, to speak our thanks that we have young men who will fight such a war as was fought in Korea.

This was a conflict whose purposes did not always seem clear to the boys who fought it. From home they heard it called useless and unnecessary. A great general was called home because of differences over how it should be fought and concluded. America appeared to have neither the means nor the wish to press the issue to decisive victory.

Yet these men gave the country the devotion it required of them. Whether they thought they understood the "why" of it or not, they fought bravely. And many died, slain in battle or dragged slowly down to death by an enemy gifted in the deliberate contrivance of misery.

We are grateful to all those who did this fighting. And, again, we utter thanks that, for the moment at least, no more must do what they had to do.

It's a fellow's lofty ambitions which often make him stumble over the little, important things.

CANNON FODDER

Moscow's contempt for ordinary people is startlingly revealed in a casual remark made by the Communist refugee, Gregory Klimov, in his new book, "The Terror Machine." He says that in 1941, Stalin, realizing that Hitler would attack him, prepared for a defensive war in three phases. In the first men were sacrificed as cannon fodder with old uniforms and old weapons. Not till the third phase, when the initial German rush had exhausted itself and Russia's vast area was begining to play its part, did the army use new weapons and uniforms. Men were cheap, Russia had plenty more.

This was the standpoint of a regime which pretends to care for the people.

The man who keeps his head in traffic has the best chance of keeping it unbandaged.

SAUCER OBSERVATORY

Canada is one of the oldest and most conservative members of the British Commonwealth of nations. There is little that is impractical or frivolous about the average Canadian. Bred with a pioneer background he is used to taking matters seriously and working at them studiously.

This is why the news that Canada will operate a flying saucer observatory near Ottawa is of interest to the rest of the world. If Canada takes the flying saucers seriously perhaps something useful may be learned. The observatory will attempt to determine whether flying saucers are real or imaginary.

Even if stories of flying saucers are disproved some explanation may be found for the recurrent phenomena which flash across the skies of North America.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

I AM THANKFUL

National holidays are usually set aside to commemorate great historic events or to recall the lives of heroic individuals.

Thanksgiving Day is different. It is unrelated to any particular historic event or to any great personality. It is an individualistic holiday, providing an opportunity for every person to thank God for the blessings that have come to him. It is a personal holiday and used to be deeply religious.

I am thankful that in 1917, at the beginning of my career, I was sent to Russia. Often I have thought of what might have been my story had this not happened. So many of those whom I knew in my boyhood moved from one liberal atmosphere to another until some of them landed in the Communist conspiracy.

Who knows what can happen in those youthful years when one is so sure he has the answer to all problems; when he is so strong that he can remake the world—all by himself out of his own self-assurance?

Therefore, I am thankful that I was permitted to witness those strange days between July, 1917, and March, 1918, when a nation sought liberty and was reduced to slavery. It was an unforgettable experience. The brutality of the tiny majority, the Bolsheviks, made me aware of the chasm between profession and performance, between the proclamation of an ideal and the earthiness of reality.

I am thankful that this experience brought me back to the God of my fathers. For I had wandered in college in the Hegelian materialism which had already become the climate of American intellectualism. We already knew that God was a myth. But the reaction to Marxism, in its Leninist version in the midst of the Russian Revolution, could only be, if one did not submit to its disciplines, the assurance that there must be a Divine Intelligence, a power outside ourselves that makes for righteousness, a God. From this strength alone can come reasoning resistance to Bolshevism.

I am thankful that having witnessed Socialism at work, I could not believe that any system is preferable to a free competitive economy in which each individual, at his risk, forms the pattern of his life. For no matter how ideally worded in the books, Socialism reduces man to serfdom in the sense that he becomes bound to the decisions and will of the State; he is a creature of police power. When the government owns the means of production and distribution, the individual becomes a thing, a statistical figure. He is lost in the morass of bureaucracy.

I am thankful that early in life, in the atmosphere of a reign of terror, when men fought for the possession of an egg and women sold themselves for a bar of chocolate, it came to me that the Natural Law, the revealed law of God to man, proclaimed by my ancestors in the Bible, offering to man pity, compassion, charity, love as ideals of life, was a superior pattern to the Darwinian struggle for existence and the Marxian theory of unending class struggle.

I am thankful for the long years I spent among the kindly Chinese, who broadened my outlook on life and proved that while the human race contains as many different kinds of people as there are varieties of roses, all human beings are much the same in their elementary nature. Before I arrived in Harbin in 1918, the only Chinese I had known were sugar-cane merchants in New York's Chinatown, chop suey restaurant waiters, laundrymen, and three or four students at Columbia University. For 13 years, I lived among the Chinese in their own country and I came to know them with rare intimacy—and to love them.

But most of all, I am thankful that I am a citizen of no mean country; that in this country of my birth, I am permitted to write and speak, wisely or foolishly, in freedom. I am thankful that I can worship my God without fear and that no government controls my life or threatens me with reprisals against my children.

On Thanksgiving Day, I shall bow my head before the gracious God whose shadow fell between me and possible grievious errors that could have tortured my life and brought misery to my kin. There is so much to be thankful for.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Because there are so many deaths due to heart stroke (coronary thrombosis) and brain stroke (apoplexy, cerebral hemorrhage), and high blood pressure is recognized as the immediate cause, many men and women visiting their physicians ask to have their high blood pressure tested. Their physician may tell them that recent investigation has shown that blood pressure formerly thought to be high enough to reject an applicant for life insurance is not usually serious if it is not "always" high (that is, high on more than one examination) and unless it is accompanied by symptoms such as constant headache, pain in chest, and shortness of breath.

In Postgraduate Medicine, Drs. Arthur M. Master and Harry L. Jaffe, Mount Sinai Hospital, New York, N. Y., in describing the new figures for normal blood pressure, state:

In 1950, Drs. Master, Dublin and Marks published their observations on the blood pressure of 74,000 persons from 16 to 64 years of age who were in average good health and who worked in industrial plants throughout the country during World War 2. For years the average normal blood pressures have been set at 150 systolic and about 90 diastolic. From these observations it was found that thousands of men and women over 45 have blood pressures of 150 systolic and 96 diastolic up to 175 systolic and 100 diastolic but feel well and present no evidence of heart and bloodvessel disease. In the past, these people have been labelled hypertensive (having high blood pressure); yet when their blod pressures are compared with those in the newly estbalished tables, age and sex considered, it is evident that many fall within the normal range and are not hypertensives. Such patients (with no symptoms) require neither observation nor treatment and may be accepted for employment and military service. However, if they suffer from angina syndrome (angina pectoris —vise-like pressure in chest) or they have shortness of breath or other evidence of congestive heart failure, or enlargement of the heart, eye changes, or signs of kidney disturbance, the patients should be considered as being hypertensive despite the finding that their blood pressure is within normal limits.

What do we learn from the new tables for normal and abnormal high blood pressure?

We learn that if a patient's blood pressure falls within the new high blood pressure levels, the need of treatment depends on the presence of sclerosis (hardening) of the blood vessels of the heart, brain, kidneys and eyes. If these are not present, and the blood pressure does not continue to rise, no treatment is necessary.

Drs. Master and Jaffe suggest that the patient should be told his blood pressure is high as he will learn about it anyway, but should be told that if no symptoms are present, and pressure does not continue to rise, there is no cause for worry. Worry raises the blood pressure.

How Is Your Blood Pressure?

Is it high? Is it low? Do you worry about it? "---Deep Thanks That the War Is Cold, Not Hot"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA)—Big gaps appear in information so far made public on the Federal Bureau of Investigation probe of Harry Dexter White's alleged spying activities.

The fact that the former Treasury official had been supplying documents for the Communist apparatus was first made known to government officials at the time Whittaker Chambers went to see Assistant Secretary of State Adolph Berle in 1939. But it was 1941 before two FBI agents called on Chambers and asked him for information. They told Chambers they would be back in a few days, but he says he never saw those agents again, nor, in fact, did he see any FBI men for almost two years.

This would bring the case up to some time in 1944.

On Nov. 8, 1945, Elizabeth Bentley told her story to the FBI. On Nov. 27, according to Attorney General Herbert Brownell, the FBI completed its big report on Communist espionage in the U. S.

Two months later President Truman announced White's appointment as U. S. director of the International Monetary Fund. On Feb. 1, 1946, the FBI sent to the White House and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes its special report on White.

On March 31, 1947, White resigned from the Monetary Fund. A special grand jury to investigate communism was sworn in on June 16, 1947, but it failed to return an indictment against White for lack of evidence.

White testified in his own defense, denying everything, Aug. 13, 1948. Four days later he died. Whittaker Chambers did not produce his famous "pumpkin papers" which included a memo in White's handwriting, until mid-November. This was of course evidence which the grand jury did not have. It was produced nine years too late.

It's a Long Time

Washington reporters were kept waiting for nearly three hours in the Department of Justice press room for Attorney General Herbert Brownell's statement on the Harry Dexter White case. First it was to be ready at 3 p. m., then 5:30 or 6. About that time one of the correspondents looked at his colleagues with deadpan expression and asked, "What is the gestation period for an elephant, anyway?"

Didn't Nail Tito

The big hassle over Trieste, brought on by the American-British announcement to give Zone A to the Italians and Zone B to Yugoslavia, was in part due to bad British intelligence.

The British apparently thought they had an understanding with Marshal Tito that this split would be satisfactory, after he made perfunctory objections. The Yugoslavs didn't exactly doublecross on this deal. They just hadn't been nailed down tight enough in advance.

Won't Block Masons

Reports that the Spanish government would screen all Americans asigned to American military assistance programs in Spain, to keep out all Masons, are denied at the State Department.

Though the U. S. government folows the usual diplomatic courtesy of notifying the Spanish government of all American personnel assigned to aid missions, thus far there have been no objections to any of these appointments and no questions have been raised as to possible Masonic affiliations.

Freemasonry is regarded as a political movement in most of Europe, and as such it is considered as opposition to Franco's party.

Soviet Magazines in U. S.

Though the Soviet government admits no U. S. publications to Russia and has long since stopped distribution of the war-born U. S. picture magazine "Amerika," printed with Russian language text, the Communists are now trying to sell English editions of five Moscow publications in the United States.

Distribution of these magazines is perfectly legal under American principles of freedom of the press, so long as the propaganda does not advocate overthrow of the U. S. government.

The Russian magazines now offered for sale in the U. S. include "Soviet Union," a picture magazine printed in color; "Soviet Literature," a monthly; "Soviet Woman," a bimonthly "News," a fortnightly; and "New Times," a foreign affair weekly. All these publications seek to glorify life in the Communist paradise and put over the Communist international policy line.

Have the Knack

Tailor birds, of India, do not have to be taught to sew. A young bird, reared without ever seeing its parents or a tailor bird's nest, follows the nest-building customs of its race.

President's Statement Is Challenged by ADA on Grounds It's Not Applied

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 25—From one end of the country to the other the headlines and news dispatches have emphasized a few sentences from a speech here Monday night by President Eisenhower about the "right to meet your accuser face to face." The President was discussing principles of American jurisprudence, presumably in court proceedings. Promptly, however, the "Americans for Democratic Action," a radical organization which has regularly been denouncing congressional investigations on communism, jumped all over Mr. Eisenhower with a tart charge of insincerity on the ground that he was not applying the principle in the practices of his administration.

It seems somehow to be an example of a "political motive" for the attorney general of the Eisenhower administration to reveal the laxity of former President Truman in handling spies in the government but not at all "political" or "partisan" for the ADA, now headed by Adlai Stevenson's chief advisers in the last campaign, to condemn the President of the United States by challenging his sincerity.

The ADA demanded that the President apply the principle of letting the accused face the accuser in three "concrete cases." The first charge of violation of the principle was attributed as follows:

"To our own security program, which covers millions of government employes and workers in defense plants who today can be discharged as 'security risks' without this 'right to meet their accusers face to face'."

Now, the foregoing contains an inaccurate implication. The method whereby a security procedure in the governmental departments is conducted today is the same as that which prevailed under the Truman administration. This provides that the accused must be furnished with a stenographic transcript of all charges and names of witnesses who made the charges except in those instances where, to reveal an informant, is to endanger the life or continued usefulness of the informant—as, for instance, when an FBI undercover agent actually attends Communist meetings and reports on what he sees. But the information itself and the charge is nevertheless made available now, as under the Truman administration, before judgment is rendered. Where the identity of a witness can be revealed, he is subject to cross-examination by counsel for the accused in security proceedings. As a matter of fact, the Eisenhower administration has actually added some procedural safeguards for the accused which were not available under the previous administration's security program.

The next ADA charge applies as follows:

"To the recent practice of your attorney general in pronouncing unilateral findings of guilt predicated on half-disclosed reports from confidential sources."

This denies the right of the government to preserve itself—for the government's right to make its own inquiry on the loyalty of its own employes, plus the right to dismiss on the basis of its own findings, has been upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States. To work as an employe of the government is not a right, but a privilege, and this can be terminated without submitting the evidence to a court or jury to determine guilt or innocence under espionage laws.

The third ADA charge is applied as follows:

"To congressional investigations where men's reputations are besmirched or destroyed without opportunity to confront and answer their accusers. We urge you to translate your fine leadership into leadership in deeds."

The President of the United States does not make the rules for committees of Congress. The Democratic Party is just as much responsible for existing rules in congressional inquiries as is the Republican Party. Also, it is not accurate to say that a person accused does not have the right to reply. In all the recent investigations, the congressional committees have afforded to any person accused an opportunity to testify or to file a statement in rebuttal and to have it made a part of the record. No cross-examination of witnesses is permitted by counsel for the accused, though some Democrats and Republicans have favored such a practice.

But why is the ADA silent on the most flagrant abuse that exists today—those citizens who refuse to answer questions asked by their own government and who hide behind the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution not merely to protect themselves but to protect spies, thus depriving the national government of valuable information available to such witnesses and needed to maintain the security of the United States?

Former Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, in a speech Tuesday in Atlanta, said the American people are entitled "to have the facts in the Harry Dexter White case and similar cases developed, evaluated and disclosed soberly, honestly, impartially in a manner consistent with national interest, security and dignity."

Does Mr. Stevenson know of any dignified way to find out why former President Truman never revealed the facts heretofore to the American people, although warned again and again by the FBI about spies in the government? If Mr. Stevenson can devise an "objective" way to get an answer from Mr. Truman as to why he didn't withdraw Harry Dexter White's commission when he was advised to do it and why fourteen months later he still wrote White an effusive letter of praise, it will still be interesting news and be helpful indeed in disclosing how the Democratic administrations were duped by certain Communist spies masquerading as New Dealers and loyal Americans.

Mr. Stevenson accused Attorney General Brownell of "political motives." Presumably his own speech on the Brownell-Truman controversy was not influenced by any "political motive."

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Nov. 24—President Eisenhower and lesser characters in the scrap over Harry Truman's misconduct in promoting Harry Dexter White when he was on warning of his treachery have gone out of their way to say they have no doubt of Truman's loyalty. Inasmuch as nobody had charged him with disloyalty, this is a gratuitous concession.

However, in view of facts thus far disclosed, to say nothing of more facts which certainly will be revealed, I would refuse to sign such a testimonial unless Truman were to give me a satisfactory explanation. I mean satisfactory to me. Each citizen is his own judge here.

When Truman's own selfless secretary, Jonathan Daniels, from the inside of the political and physical household of the White House writes, in effect, that Truman was a protege of Max Lowenthal, and Communist witnesses under oath say that they would incriminate themselves if they even admitted that they knew Lowenthal, I have to withhold any waiver. I don't accuse Truman of disloyalty. I don't yet know what to make of the facts and I reserve judgment.

To doubt the loyalty of a man who has been President of our country is a terrible trial to a citizen who grew up in the era before F. D. Roosevelt's reign, but this may be our predicament before we are through with Truman's case.

As to Roosevelt, to my sorrow, I have had to face facts and make the adverse decision. Who of us would have thought it possible back in 1933, when many millions, probably a majority, of today's voters were too young to be aware of any political developments, that this montebank with his background of wealth and his "cultivated" accent would load the government of the United States with traitors?

I hope nobody will try to convince me that this was done by unfaithful subordinates, without his consent or connivance. Roosevelt's worst enemies have never made the mistake of regarding him as a gullible fool, so the conclusion is inevitable that, in his own phrase, he planned it that way. So there is a President whose loyalty I have to doubt.

Daniels said this mysterious character, Lowenthal, absolutely unknown to the public until he wrote a book blasting the FBI, spotted Truman as a man suited to his own designs and coached him along to the vice-presidency, knowing that Roosevelt was dying and that the vice-president would move up in time to make the peace.

I telephoned Bartley Crum, a California lawyer with offices in New York and a Red record so bad that he hangs his head in shame, and asked whether Lowenthal had had any real connection with the Hollywood Reds and their friends, the so-called Hollywood committee on the first amendment.

The so-called committee, including Danny Kaye, Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall, flew into Washington to heckle and ridicule the House Committee in the interests of Reds who later went to prison. Crum was counsel for some of the worst Reds and for the committee also.

Incidentally, he became counsel for Drew Pearson in one of his dragging suits against me but finally came into my lawyer's office to say that he had never forsaken his Catholicism and that he was ashamed of his Red record.

During the examination of the Hollywood Reds, Crum consulted Lowenthal because he regarded the man as an expert on the procedures and the authority of congressional committees.

Crum says Lowenthal told him the best course was to tell the committee frankly whether this or that one was a member of the Communist party. By contrast with this advice Lowenthal himself in his appearance before the House Committee was remarkably vague on many matters.

However, on careful review of his old testimony I conclude that my early impression was incorrect that he positively withheld the name of "organizations" which arranged for his appointment to a job on General Clay's staff in Germany just after the war. He said there were five such "organizations" and named one, but the committee wandered off and did not press him to identify the others. It was not up to him to volunteer the information and I know the committee regarded the subject as a hot potato.

He did admit knowing a number of the most notorious Reds of the movement but the voluntary estimate of the political character of his friend Crum, is laughable in view of Crum's own admission to my attorneys and to Alfred Kohlberg, one of the most effective Red-baiters in the country, that he was ashamed of his activity in the Red movement. Lowenthal said:

"I had confidence in his true Americanism."

Thus, Lowenthal's notion of true Americanism is peculiar or his knowledge of Crum's activities up to then was faulty.

George Sokolsky commented sharply on Lowenthal's attitude about the time that he published his abusive survey of the FBI. Sokolsky said he found it "a little difficult" to believe that Lowenthal, in one instance, could not remember what work he did for a war "commission," whose name he could not remember, headed by Paul McNutt.

On the absence from his testimony of the names of the mysterious "organizations" which procured his appointment to the job with Clay dealing with financial affairs, Sokolsky wrote:

"What are these organizations? He must know but he does not say. No names of organizations. No names of individuals. It all hangs in the vacuum of secrecy and mystery. It is difficult to help wondering how a man who forgets so much so easily could remember so much about the FBI."

Finally, what do we mean by loyalty? Do we mean loyalty to the United States? Truman went to war for the United States. Or do mean loyalty to the Constitution without which the United States is just geography adorned with physical assets and people, possibly serfs?

My own loyalty goes to the Constitution, but both Roosevelt and Truman throughout their papers and their official conduct have grossly violated my concept of that spirit of the United States. They have failed in loyalty in my view.

As to their hospitality to Reds, we know enough about Roosevelt now to condemn him for facilitating and abetting treachery. As to Truman, the known facts of the Hiss and White affairs certainly justify us in suspending judgment, if not in a positive conclusion.

Look for Santa Claus

Whitehall, Nov. 25 (AP)—Three Washington county tots tried to carry their Christmas requests direct to Santa Claus at the "North Pole" and they wound up lost in the woods. Police found the trio crying for help about a half mile from their Whitehall home. The trio, Joseph Robetore, 3; Joseph Valastro and Charles Goff, both 4, were bewildered but unhurt. "We were looking for Santa Claus," they explained.

"Please settle a bidding dispute," requests a New Jersey correspondent. "East and West had a few words to say to each other after the play of the accompanying hand. Each one thinks that the other was wrong.

"There wasn't much to the play, for South had no trouble making his redoubled contract. West opened the nine of diamonds, and South won with the king. Declarer entered dummy with the ace of hearts to lead a low trump. East ducked, and South won with the king.

"When South saw that East had all the trumps he tried another round of diamonds. East ruffed, but could do nothing. If he took out dummy's trumps, South would run the diamonds to discard the losing hearts; and if East did anything else, South could ruff his losing hearts in dummy. East managed to get three trump tricks, but South easily made his contract.

"When the hand was over, East seemed stunned. He had expected to reap a rich harvest, instead of which South had redoubled and wrapped the hand around his neck.

"West began the attack. He said that South had obviously been looking for a slam when he bid three clubs. West's double of three clubs was meant to scare South out of the slam. Unfortunately, West pointed out, he was always saddled with a partner who wanted to get into the act.

"East recited his hand and wondered how much more he needed for a double of four spades. He said he had known that West couldn't have much for the double of three clubs, but he was entitled to rely on a little more than just one queen.

"And so it went. Which is the guiltier of the two?"

I would blame West for the disaster.

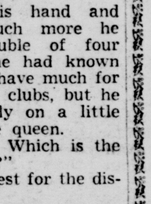

West was right when he assumed that South was trying for a slam. But West was entitled to assume that South would run into a very bad trump break. Hence there was no need to keep South out of a slam that he probably wouldn't make, and there was no need to encourage East to double prematurely. West simply didn't think the situation through, and his attempt at decepion succeeded only in deceiving his partner instead of the opponents.

Peer Loses Place

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—The New York Social Register for 1954 lopped a peer from its pages today. The blue book of the social world dropped the Marquess of Milford-Haven. Presumably he was deleted because his American wife, the former Romaine Pierce Simpson, is seeking to shed him, naming Hungarian Actress Eva Bartok as the other woman. President and Mrs. Eisenhower are omitted from the new edition, too. That's because they now live in Washington and will be listed in the Washington register.

CONSTIPATED?

This note from John J. McKeever of Dalton, Mass., will interest you!

"I'd often get constipated when my everyday schedule was upset—such as by a long car ride.

"But I never did get the gentle, speedy relief I wanted until the day Sal Hepatica was recommended to me. Next time I woke up with that logy feeling and knew my day might be ruined by constipation, I took Sal Hepatica before breakfast. Within about an hour, I was back on my feet! Sal Hepatica really does the trick!"

Yes, take sparkling Sal Hepatica before breakfast and feel fine again . . . usually within an hour. Or, take it in the evening one half hour before supper and feel fine again by bedtime! Sweetens sour stomach, too! So keep Sal Hepatica handy in your medicine chest.

Thanksgiving

A day of Thanks for our most precious possession...Freedom!

George Washington originated the First Thanksgiving Day. He proclaimed Nov. 26, 1789 to be a national day of Thanksgiving and prayer for the Constitution of the United States.

At the first Thanksgiving Day feast there were 145 persons—55 colonists and 90 Massaoit Indians.

James Madison—set aside a Thursday as Thanksgiving Day in each year of his 4 year term, but always in a Different Month!

FUNNNY BUSINESS — By HERSCHBERGER

Thanks Be To Thee

God of men of lowly birth,
God of men who till the earth,
God of men of sterling worth,
We thank Thee!

God of men who do and dare,
God of men who burdens bear,
God of men who freely share,
We thank Thee!

God of men who watch and pray,
God of men who light the way,
God of men who serve today,
We thank Thee!

Rips 'Em Like Dad

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 25 (AP)—John Begue of WICS-TV, Springfield station, has learned of another peril facing television announcers. Last week as part of a commercial he took a knife and ripped apart two mattresses to reveal the voluminous interior foam padding. Today, Begue learned that his 2-year-old son, Johnny, who watched the exhibition on the family's TV set, had duplicated his father's performance. The two Johnny ripped apart were newly purchased mattresses for the Begue household.

New Paltz

Bugar and Dippel Attend Conference

New Paltz, Nov. 24 — Frank Bugar, principal of New Paltz High School, and Frederick C. Dippel, assistant principal and director of adult education, attended an adult education worship at Beacon on Friday and Saturday. Persons connected with the administration of adult education programs in this area attended. Current problems were discussed and ideas exchanged in an endeavor to better the programs of adult education in this district.

Elementary Education Cost Study Planned

New Paltz, Nov. 24—A study of the cost of different types of elementary education is now under way in 200 school systems of New York state.

In the local region the study is being carried out by 18 schools under the sponsorship of the Mid-Hudson School Study Council. Those schools participating in the study include the following: Carmel, Brewster, Mahopac, Millbrook, Haldane, Red Hook, Wappingers, New Paltz, Kingston, Kerhonkson, Grahamsville, Walden, Warwick, Chester, Goshen, Newburgh, Highland Falls and New Windsor.

Each of these schools has organized a four-member team, consisting of two board members or other interested citizens and two professional educators, which will visit other participating schools in an effort to study the effectiveness and quality of their elementary programs.

Members of the visiting teams will meet at the State University Teachers College at New Paltz today when they will be briefed on their responsibilities. Dr. David Clark, research assistant for the New York State Teachers Association, will lead the training session.

The program of inter-visitation among the schools is scheduled to be carried out between November 30 and December 11.

In a second part of the study involving costs of elementary education some 12,000 sixth-graders in the state have been given achievement tests.

The entire study is part of a state-wide effort to improve the quality of elementary education for New York State's children.

Rosendale

To Hold Christmas Party December 19

Rosendale, Nov. 24—The Rosendale Woman's Club met early this month at the home of Mrs. Ino Spindler. Co-hostesses were Mrs. L. Thorpe, Mrs. J. Stein and Mrs. R. Demarest.

Mrs. E. Galvin, chairman of the Town Loan Closet, reported that the hospital bed and mattress had arrived and that all equipment would be displayed in the town clerk's office this month. Anyone in town in need of the equipment is requested to contact Mrs. Galvin.

Containers for the Penny-A-Day Scholarship Fund were distributed to the members by Mrs. V. Freese, chairman of the committee. Just how this fund will be distributed will be discussed in detail at the January meeting. All the schools in the town will be eligible for the awards.

Mrs. James Guerreri was appointed chairman and Mrs. Arthur O'Leary co-chairman of the Town Christmas Party which will be held for the children in the town. Date and place will be announced later.

Plans for the club to be hostess at a luncheon for the county meeting this fall, were postponed until some time next spring.

The club's annual Christmas party will be held at Spindler's Resort on December 19. Mrs. Joseph Stein was selected as chairman.

Thruway Spur Not Ready for Week

A spokesman for A. E. Ottaviano, state thruway contractor in the Kingston area, indicated today that the spur connecting Route 28 and the express highway just west of the city, is not expected to be ready for traffic before the end of the week.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk was notified last week that it was planned to open the route for traffic between here and Catskill on next Tuesday, Dec. 1, but apparently unfavorable weather and other factors have caused delays.

All the concrete that is to be done this year is poured on the spur, the contractor's spokesman said, and the connecting sections, still unfinished, are to be done in blacktop. The spokesman indicated that all work should be done by the end of next week, if the weather permits.

Saying's Origin

A group of statesmen is said to be "log rolling" when working in a group for certain purposes. The expression originated in the early days, when logs were cut and rolled together by a settler and his neighbors, the task being too great for one man.

St. Mary's Holy Name Society

The annual Memorial Mass for deceased members of St. Mary's Holy Name Society will be offered in St. Mary's Church at 7:30 a. m. Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, Nov. 26. All members of the society are urged to attend.

Signed,
THEODORE WOOD,
President.

Memoriam

In loving memory of a dear husband and devoted father, Bennie Whispell, who passed away Nov. 26, 1940.

We do not need a special day,
To bring you to our mind;
The day we do not think of you,
Is very hard to find.
It's said time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget;
But so far, time has only proved
How much we miss you yet.

Wife, OLA WHISPELL
and Children.

Memoriam

In sad and loving remembrance of my mother, Clara Bolohas Szekeres, who passed away four year ago today, Nov. 25, 1949.

Rest after suffering, peace after pain,
Faith in God's keeping, till we meet again.

Daughter,
MRS. LOUIS TIANO.

Civil Cases Are Heard in Court

Criminal matters gave way to civil cases today in County Court when a negligence action brought by Dorothy Lipka of Ellenville against Edward Christiana, Ellenville restaurant keeper, was moved for trial. Plaintiff alleges she sustained injuries on a walk in front of 142 Center street, Ellenville. Kooperman & Kooperman appear for plaintiff and Andrew J. Cook, Jr., apears for defendant.

The action was originally brought in Supreme Court but transfered to County Court by Justice Harry E. Schirick. Plaintiff seeks $3,000 damages.

Prior to selection of a jury counsel for plaintiff, Lipka, moved in court to limit the amount of damages which may be recovered to $3,000, the limit which may be sought in County Court in a civil action.

Thomas G. White, charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry at the opening of court changed a former innocent plea to one of guilty to unlawful entry. Seymour Werbalowsky appeared for defendant. White was jointly charged with one, William T. Cowans. Sentence in the White case was postponed until Monday at 2 p. m.

Additional criminal matters will be taken up at the conclusion of the Ellenville case.

Woolson Is Ill

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 25 (AP)—Albert Henry Woolson, 106, only survivor of the 2,675,000-man Union Army in the Civil War, was hospitalized late Tuesday with a lung congestion. St. Luke's Hospital attendants said today he was in fairly good condition. He was quoted as saying, "I'm not going to kick off yet." Woolson was born Feb. 11, 1947, in Watertown, N. Y.

Only Tabs Will Be Issued to Motorists

Only metal tabs will be issued to motorists for the year 1954, it was announced today by Harry D. Sutton, Ulster county clerk.

He said 1953 plates would be retained and the small 1954 metal tabs attached.

Applications have been mailed to all Ulster county motorists, Sutton said. The clerk's office will begin issuing license tabs December 1.

The new tabs cannot be attached to 1953 plates until January 1. Motorists have until February 1 to attach the tabs.

Conference Held On Ridding Port Of All Racketeers

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey and his successor, Gov.-Elect Robert B. Meyner, had a long conference yesterday with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey about waterfront problems.

Said Driscoll after the session:

"We are going to put the port of New York back on its feet."

The new bi-state waterfront commission takes over control of the port next Tuesday.

Democrat Meyner said interest in the waterfront will not wane when he assumes the governorship from Republican Driscoll in January. He said that during his election campaign he found New Jerseyans most interested in ridding the waterfront of racketeer elements.

20,500 Register

Dewey said 20,500 longshoremen already have registered with the new commission. This number is sufficient to insure an adequate work force when the commission goes into effect, he said.

Also at the conference were Edward C. Rose of New Jersey and George P. Hays of New York, the new waterfront commissioners; and Lawrence E. Walsh, executive director and general counsel of the commission.

Dewey acted as spokesman for the group later. He said the commission's 13 hiring centers would be fully staffed and ready for business by the Dec. 1 starting date.

Many Have Applied

Besides the longshoremen already registered, Dewey said 600 have applied for licenses as hiring agents; 2,400 as watchmen; and 400 as pier superintendents. He said 69 applications were made for licenses as stevedoring firms.

Licenses will be temporary, he added, so that the commission can investigate the applicants. Then permanent licenses will be issued.

"A substantial number of licenses are being held up pending interviews to eliminate racketeers," Dewey said.

Question Loaders

The only hitch so far in smooth operation of the bi-state waterfront law has been the question of public loaders, he said, and noted that a federal judge granted a stay yesterday on enforcement of the provision which would abolish public loaders.

In talking to the press, Dewey said public loaders serve no function on the waterfront. They usually get a "tribute" of 4½ per cent on all material loaded, he added.

Dewey then said:

"By definition, a public loader is a racketeer."

Israel Is Rebuked

look on the censure as a victory and as a UN sanction of their "determination" not to sign a permanent peace treaty with Israel.

Earlier Eban made a hurried trip to Washington to plead with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to have the resolution toned down. He failed in this, but his intercession was believed to have had a direct effect on the decision to include the reference to the proposed Jordan-Israel talks.

The Arabs, who strove to put as many teeth as possible in the resolution, complained that it did not dwell closely enough on the report delivered to the council by truce supervisor Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike.

Israel has contended that the raid was a reprisal act by border Israeli villagers and did not involve her army. She blamed the incident on lack of permanent Arab-Israel peace and a long series of Jordan raids on Israeli territory.

Russia's abstention came as no surprise to most delegates. They said that the Soviet Union, which kept silent during the entire debate, wanted to avoid incurring the enmity of either Israel or the Arab states for fear of hampering her Middle East ambitions.

It has been Russian policy to stay out of all Arab-Israeli debates in the UN.

Actress Is Booked

Santa Monica, Calif., Nov. 25 (AP)—Police report that they booked actress Gail Russell last night on suspicion of drunk driving. Officers Ed Sweeney and Bert Dillinger took her into custody, they said, after she repeatedly honked her horn at their police car, which was stopped at a red signal. She gave her age as 29 and listed her occupation as an entertainer. Miss Russell, estranged wife of actor Guy Madison, was mentioned in the recent John Wayne divorce trial. Mrs. Esperanza Wayne accused her husband of dating the dark-haired actress.

Retail Sales Same

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP)—Retail sales were about the same in October as in September, the Department of Commerce said today. After allowances for seasonal differences, October retail sales totaled $14,105,000,000. This is about 100 million dollars less than in October 1952. Durable goods sales picked up about 1 per cent in October, with litte or no change in sales of non durable goods. Retailers of jewelry, general merchandise and automobiles reported seasonally adjusted sales increases in October of 2 to 3 per cent over September. Gasoline service stations and clothing stores reported October sales declines, seasonally adjusted, of 2 to 3 per cent, compared to September.

Serious Matter

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 25 (AP)—There was some concern when Dist. Atty. Alfred B. Cenedella halted a grand jury session yesterday and said: "I now have a very serious matter to take up with you!" All leaned forward expectantly. "Juror Harry B. Beal has just become the father of a boy—nine pounds, eight ounces," Cenedella announced. "Whew!" said Beal. The district attorney handed him two cigars and two aspirin tablets. The jury went back to business.

Awarded Prize

Miss Mary Kirk of 172 Downs street was the winner of the hammered aluminum insulated ice bucket given away by the Mid-Way Gift Party Shop, 626 Broadway, during its second birthday observance, it was announced today by M. H. Englander, proprietor.

The Department of State was the first executive department in the U. S. government and was established in 1789.

Student Is Killed

Troy, Nov. 25 (AP) — George Warnock, a college student who was arrested during the 1952 presidential campaign while carrying an "I Like Ike" placard at an Albany Democratic rally, was killed yesterday in an automobile accident. Police said a car driven by the 21-year-old senior crashed into the rear of a city truck a mile north of here. Warnock was a resident of nearby Melrose and attended Albany State College for Teachers. He was accused of disorderly conduct during former President Truman's stopover at the Albany railroad depot in October, 1952. Police said Warnock refused to leave the rally area with his placard.

Two Trusties Escape

Utah State Prison, Nov. 25 (AP)—When Utah State Prison officials allowed two trusties outside the main prison last night to repair a plow in the institution's mechanical shop, they apparently forgot about a state-owned automobile in the shop for repairs. Instead of fixing the plow, the trusties concentrated on the automobile. Police throughout the state shortly afterwards got a message to be on the lookout for a state-owned auto, bearing a big state seal on each side, and carrying two men wearing blue denims of the style worn by prison inmates.

WALLKILL NEWS

Business Promotion Reported by Chamber

Wallkill, Nov. 24—At the recent Wallkill Chamber of Commerce meeting a report of progress made by the Montgomery Chamber in promoting business and industrial expansion in the village and surrounding areas was presented. Representing Montgomery were President Paul Scheffel and William Lock, head of the exposition committee.

George Parliman, chairman of the Christmas lighting program, announced that the Christmas lighting ceremony and party would be held December 8, beginning at 7 p. m. The school band under the direction of William Topping will present a musical program, after which the lights will be turned on and Santa will arrive bearing a gift for all. Contributions are now being solicited by the Chamber to help defray expenses. These may be handed to Frederick C. Terwiliger at the Wallkill National Bank. The Rose-Sheeley Post of the American Legion has once again donated a large Christmas tree for the square.

A home lighting contest will also be held this year and the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation will give as first prize an electric sheet. The Chamber will give as second prize an electric perculator. Third prize will be an electric clock.

The Chamber's next meeting will be highlighted by a covered dish supper and Christmas entertainment which is scheduled for 6:45 p. m. in the community room of the Wallkill National Bank. Members and their wives will attend the meeting which will be under the supervision of the clergymen of the community.

Pythias Card Party

Wallkill, Nov. 24—The Ivanhoe Lodge of Knights of Pythias will sponsor a public card party in the lodge rooms at 8 p. m. on Friday, Nov. 27. Prizes and refreshments.

Auxiliary Visits Castle Point Vets

Wallkill, Nov. 24—Mrs. Evelyn Lawson, Mrs. Dorothy Wickes, Mrs. Nettie Daley, Mrs. Mae Terwilliger and Mrs. Mildred Harris representing the Auxiliary of Rose-Sheeley Post 1034, visited veterans at Castle Point on Wednesday, Nov. 18. Sixty-two patients were given homemade cookies and apples donated by Harry Hulse and Duane Dolan, local apple growers.

The auxiliary wishes to thank its members and all friends who contributed to generously toward making this trip possible.

Macks Are Honored On 50th Anniversary

Wallkill, Nov. 24 — A dinner party was given in honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mack at the Viking Dining Room recently. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Mack, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lester Mack, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pfaff, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey McLean of Wallkill and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harris of the Bronx. Mr. and Mrs. Mack have now left for Florida to winter there.

Mrs. Charles Mack also celebrated her birthday with a dinner party given in her honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Lester Mack. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Hulse, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCord, Mr. and Mrs. S. Kelso Sloan, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey McLean, Mr. and Mrs. George Terwilliger, Mrs. Joseph Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Zwart, Mrs. Charles Mack, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pfaff and daughter Susan, Mrs. Ralph Harris and children Ralph and Reinelle.

District Building Program Discussed

Wallkill, Nov. 24—Members of the board of education, contractors, the architect and members of the Citizens Education Advisory Committee met recently to discuss the district's building program.

Although no action was taken there was a long discussion on how to spend the $768,000 approved by voters for construction in the district.

The board members opened bids for the construction and found the total to be about $1 million dollars. A special election was held this month to see if voters would approve the additional sum needed but the proposal was turned down.

Village Notes

Wallkill, Nov. 24—Student members of the senior band, orchestra and mixed chorus participated in the sectional music festival held in Middletown on Saturday evening.

Early Seal Sale Brings in $6,706

First returns from Christmas Seals letters mailed out to residents of Ulster county have brought $6,706.60 to the Ulster County TB and Health Association in the first week of the campaign to raise funds for the associations' TB prevention and control activities.

Although only 3,355 people have sent in their returns, James L. Rowe, Christmas Seals chairman, said he expected public response to be even more generous than in past years. The Seal Sale will continue through December.

Extended Program Planned

"The Association plans an expanded TB case-finding program for 1954," he reported. "Medical research is discovering better means of curing this tragic disease, and we must increase our efforts to find all the people with TB so that they can be treated and cured."

"The Association this year is financing a rehabilitation counselor for the patients at the Ulster County TB Hospital. This is a real public health move on the part of the Christmas Seal group," Rowe said, "since such a project not only give the patients something to do while in the hospital, but very often training for a new job which will help to keep him well and able to live a useful and productive life."

sailors and airmen would fight again.

But the fighting would not be restricted to Korea, top officials say.

There is no doubt now, in the minds of Far Eastern observers, but that North Korea is a satellite of Red China.

Prisoners coming home from the camps in North Korea reported the destruction of the country.

Some venture to say that less than three million of the one-time population of nine million remained in North Korea.

It will take a lot of aid to rebuild North Korea—a lot more than it will to rebuild South Korea. The U. S. has already promised Rhee nearly a billion dollars.

Rhee's greatest love is his country. No one in authority here expects him to turn his back on a billion dollars.

Speaks Thursday At Union Service

DR. RALPH M. HOUSTON

The Rev. Dr. Ralph Houston will deliver the sermon at the annual Union Thanksgiving service sponsored by the uptown churches. The one-hour service will begin at 10 a. m. in the Church of the Nazarene, Wiltwyck avenue and Elmendorf street. The Rev. Sampson M. Greene will offer the invocation, and the Rev. Frederick F. Fike, host pastor, will preside.

Zoning Board To Study Petitions

The local zoning board will consider four applications for zoning changes at a meeting Dec. 2 at 8 p. m., in the city court room city hall.

Mrs. Corliss Sedaker, of 236 Albany avenue, seeks a zoning change so that she might operate a tea room in conjunction with her tourists' home; Thomas Fitzgerald, 279 West Chestnut street, seeks to erect a garage and storage space for tile; Dominic Perry, 19 Lindsley avenue, wants to use a private garage for his dairy business and Milton Canfield, 326 Hasbrouck avenue, seeks to erect a garage nearer to the street than allowed by law.

the areas to be included in the the proposed enlarged water district.

Since the announcement recently of the decision of IBM to establish a plant north of Kingston, there has been renewed interest in a water district and the meeting Tuesday evening was preliminary to other meetings at which more definite plans will be developed.

It was the consensus of the meeting last evening that the plan should be given further study and a new petition drawn and circulated in the area and that in view of the probable increase in population in the area in the very near future, that the area of the proposed district should be enlarged to provide adequate water supply for future growth.

Reply to Come

investigators prompted the subcommittee to submit a second formal request.

Pearson asserted that Canada has given the United States every scrap of information disclosed by Gouzenko in six or seven years of detailed questioning. "This ought to be enough to get out of him what he knows," the foreign secretary added.

Asked if he had any idea if the Soviets know where Gouzenko is living, Pearson said the mounties do not think so. He said the ex-Russian and his family are in an undisclosed Canadian village and he is confident their identity has been preserved from their neighbors and others.

Poughkeepsie IBM Promotes Two Men

Promotions of two key officials of the Poughkeepsie plant of the International Business Machines Corporation was announced Tuesday.

Kenneth L. Snover, who has served as superintendent for two years, was named as assistant general manager while Joseph F. Degen, currently assistant superintendent, was promoted to the post of plant superintendent.

Both promotions were announced by William J. Mair, vice-president and general manager of the IBM plant in Poughkeepsie.

Snover joined IBM in August, 1937, as an apprentice in apprentice toolmakers school at Endicott. Upon graduation he held several assignments at the Endicott plant before coming to Poughkeepsie in 1946. His assignments at the Bridge City plant included manager of the tool analysis and design department, project manager of all electric accounting machine assemblies and sub-assemblies, and assistant tool engineer prior to his promotion to superintendent in October 1951.

Degen, the announcement said, joined the Poughkeepsie IBM plant in 1946 in the tool and gage department. In March 1950 he was promoted to manager of the tool analysis and tool design department and a year later advanced to project manager in charge of quality control on the electric typewriter and electric accounting machines. In January, 1952, he was promoted to quality manager and in September of that year was named as assistant superintendent.

Living Cost Boost

told a news conference. "But the period of inflation appears to be ended."

During the month foods declined slightly but this was more than offset by increases in the cost of housing, clothing, medical care, personal care, recreation and other goods and services.

The mid-October figure was 13.4 per cent above the level of June, 1950 when the Korean war started.

The million auto workers are in line for a two-cent hourly pay boost because of labor contract provisions tied to cost of living changes.

The wage increase will apply to 385,000 hourly-rated employes in General Motors Corp. alone. They will get the raise in their first pay period in December. About 105,000 eligible salary workers at GM will receive an equivalent cost-of-living allowance of $10 for the quarterly period beginning in December.

Declining meat prices, particularly for pork and chickens, were mainly responsible for lower prices for foods in October. The bureau reported that foods averaged 1.2 per cent less in October than a year earlier.

Decoration . . .

as deserters? If so, they are out of reach of army law now, since the military code of justice specifies a man must be present physically at a court martial to hear the charges against him.

These new problems, most of them without precedent, are the subject of almost daily meetings in the Pentagon to decide not only the individual cases but to frame a general policy.

McCarthy Says

twen our two great political parties if they were united in fighting communism. They are not so united today. Truman's diatribe against those who expose Communists is the best proof of that."

McCarthy reminded his listeners that his own continuance as chairman of the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations is contingent on Republican control of the Senate.

Looking to the 1954 Senate and House elections, McCarthy said:

"If the American people agree with Truman that what he calls 'McCarthyism' is bad, that it is wrong to dig out and expose traitors, they have a chance to get rid of me as chairman of the investigating committee next fall by defeating any Republican up for election."

McCarthy added that if the people "believe as I do that treason, dishonesty and stupidity should be exposed wherever and whenever found, then their anwser is to keep the Republicans in power so we may continue to clean out the Augean stables."

President's Hope

President Eisenhower told a news conference last week that he hoped the problem of Communists in government would be resolved in time so that it would not be an issue next year. Since then, several Republicans have predicted the issue would still be alive in the 1954 campaigns.

In his speech last night McCarthy cited several previously mentioned persons as examples of Communists in government during the Truman administration, and added:

"Another case in which Truman intervened in behalf of a Communist agent was the case of George Shaw Wheeler. On April 13, 1950, Wheeler, who had been working for the U. S. government in Europe, deserted to the Communist cause, denouncing the 'Gestapo methods' of the United States and stating that he was going to stand 'proudly with the Soviet regime.' Wheeler then disappeared behind the Iron Curtain.

'Found Wheeler Unfit'

"As early as 1944 the Civil Service Commission Loyalty Board had found Wheeler unfit for government service because of his membership in the Communist Party. The record is replete with evidence of espionage on his part.

"On Oct. 4, 1944, the then Sen. Harry Truman, who was a candidate for the vice-presidency on the Democrat ticket, wrote a three-page letter to the Civil Service Commission denouncing the commission in the strongest language for the procedure they followed in ordering the dismissal of Wheeler.

"In October of 1945, after Harry Truman became President, the Civil Service Commission reversed itself and ordered Wheeler reinstated."

McCarthy's prepared text was too long for the half-hour program, and he made a number of deletions. McCarthy, however, said he stood on the original advance text.

The major networks granted his demand for TV and radio time equal to that they gave Truman last week for his speech in which he said "mcCarthyism" was "corruption of the truth."

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

(By The Associated Press).

There's cheerful news from the nation's food stores this week—plenty of everything for a well-rounded Thanksgiving dinner and good buys in several meats.

The story on turkeys is that prices are much the same as a year ago. But all in all, the holiday dinner should work out a little cheaper than in 1952 because potatoes, onions, cranberries and some of the other essentials are lower in price.

While all attention has been focused on the turkey, pork prices have declined. Pork has been coming down for several weeks, and food store men are calling it a good buy. Pork loins are down eight to 10 cents a pound. In New York, bacon has dropped from 99 cents a pound about a month ago to 83.

Pork Features

And a leading chain is presently featuring these reductions on center cut pork chops: 10 cents a pound in Chicago and Jacksonville, eight cents in Philadelphia, six cents in Los Angeles and four cents in Pittsburgh.

Leg of lamb also is lower than it was a week ago, with reductions of two to four cents a pound fairly common. The beef market continues steady, but some stores are featuring items like beef roasts.

Frying chickens show little price change. Here and there, however, a couple of cents have been trimmed from week-ago prices.

Eggs are higher. Increases of two to as much as eight cents a dozen have been posted on top grade large whites. On the other hand, butter is off one to five cents a pound in numerous stores.

Men in the produce business say cabbage is an outstanding buy. Among the good buys are beets, brussels sprouts cauliflower, potatoes and onions. Sweet potatoes are a little higher than last week, but still farily reasonable, the experts say. Celery is plentiful.

The best values in fruits, according to produce men, are pears and apples. Emperor grapes, largely from storage, are described as a reasonable buy.

Armies, by agreement, never waged war actively in winter in medieval times.

Helen Leonard Weds Thomas V. Kozlowski In Recent Ceremony

Miss Helen Leonard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Leonard of 75 Ravine street, became the bride of Thomas V. Kozlowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kozlowski of Second street, Connelly, in a ceremony held Saturday, Nov. 7 at 1:30 p. m. at St. Mary's Church.

The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, assistant pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. Martin Kelly was soloist in the selection, Ave Maria, with Theodore Riccobono as organist. Terry Corkery served as altar boy for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice, tulle over satin skirt with lace inserts. Her headpiece secured an elbow length veil. She carried white roses on a prayer book.

Miss Dorothy Strid of Albany was the maid of honor. She wore a mauve pink lace dress with pleated nylon tulle skirt. She carried a bouquet of Victorian roses.

The best man was Frank Slievak of Belmore, L. I. Larry Kolopedski of Massapequa Park and Fred Spinnenweber of Port Ewen were ushers.

A reception was held at the Gables in Ulster Park for 50 guests. The Catskill Mountaineers played for the reception.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Florida for two weeks. For traveling, the bride wore a mauve pink suit with blue accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and of the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing, class of 1946.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Hempstead High School, Hempstead, L. I. He is employed at Hiltebrant Dry Dock Company in Kingston.

The couple will make their home at 203 Washington avenue.

Catskill Chorus Includes English Carols in Concert

From England, with its great wealth of tradition, have come many of our best known Christmas carols and nowadays every Christmas carol program is apt to include some English songs. Several of them will be sung by the Catskill-Hudson Community Chorus in its program to be given in the Saugerties Reformed Church on Sunday, Dec. 13 at 4 p. m. Other concerts are being given in Upper Red Hook, Catskill, Hudson and Philmont.

The Carnal and the Crane, a medieval Christmas carol, is probably the oldest song to be sung this year. It is in ballad form and relates a conversation between a crow and a crane about the birth of Jesus. Lute-Book Lullaby, early 17th century, first appeared in the manuscript Lute Book by William Ballet.

The Holly and the Ivy, by R. Boughton, is probably the best known English number on this year's program. The combination of holly and ivy has its origin deep in English history, and carols on this theme exist in many forms and manuscripts. The two plants, characteristic of the winter season, seem to have been impersonated — holly by the young men, ivy by the young women, and the poems are regularly in the form of a debate on the merits of each. Now "the holly bears a berry as red as any blood, and Mary bore sweet Jesus Christ to do poor sinners good."

A Merry Christmas, a West Country Traditional Song, was arranged by Arthur Warrell. This is a typical "jolie song" such as were sung in ancient times during the daily celebration in the houses of the wealthy throughout the Christmas holidays. This is a gay song with lots of spirit, and will bring to every one in the audience a "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

To keep alive this heritage of Christmas carols from all nations is the aim of the Catskill-Hudson Community Chorus. Its programs under the direction of Rolland E. Heermance are open to the public and everyone is cordially invited. A free-will offering will be taken to help defray expenses.

Ellenville Couple Honored at Party On 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew B. Townsend of Ellenville were feted on Sunday Nov. 15 in honor of their sixtieth wedding anniversary. A group of about 20 friends called on the couple. The guests provided a covered dish supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Townsend were married November 8, 1893, at Benton Hollow, by the Rev. James N. Bryers, grandfather of Mr. Townsend. Mrs. Townsend is the former Hattie May Jelliff, daughter of the late Captain and Mrs. Isaac Jelliff, of Hasbrouck, Sullivan County, N. Y. Mr. Townsend is the son of the late Isaac and Mary Bryers Townsend, of Greenfield.

The couple resided at Greenfield until about twenty-seven years ago, when they moved to their present home, the corner of Market and Essex streets, in Ellenville.

Their guests included their son, Dr. Alden J. Townsend of Dansville; Mr. and Mrs. William Strong of Freeville. Mrs. Strong is a sister of Mr. Townsend and was present at the wedding, sixty years ago.

Other guests were Mrs. Nellie Bryers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Briggs, of Washingtonville, Mr. and Mrs. Friend Sheldon of Kerhonkson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jollie, the Misses Margaret and Nellie Newkirk, Mrs. John Couch, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus DePuy, Mrs. Tracy Vanderlyn and Mrs. Florence Kirby. There were flowers from Hawaii and also other gifts for the couple as well as cards and numerous congratulations.

Pomona Grange Sends Open Invitation

The Youth committee of the Ulster County Pomona Grange is sponsoring an evening of fun, recreation and dancing Friday evening at the Rosendale Grange. The activities of the evening are scheduled to start 8:15 p. m.

All young people whether Grangers or not are invited to attend the affair. A particular invitation is extended to the young married couples of the area.

The program for the evening has been planned by the Pomona Youth Committee. The committee consists of Dan Barnhart, chairman; Ann Valenti, Leslie Rathbone, Ralph Jenkins, Nathaniel Phillips and Mrs. George Mollenhauer.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the evening's program.

Rosary Society Plans Party at Judies

At a special meeting of St. Mary's Rosary Society Mrs. Charles Ahl, chairman of the Christmas party, announced a change in the location of the event.

The party will be held at Judies, Thursday, Dec. 10 at 6:30 p. m.

The chairman extends a cordial invitation to all members, and requests that each bring a small gift.

Reservations must be made before Monday, Dec. 7, it was announced, and may be made through the prefects or by contacting Mrs. W. Fallon, 6193 or Mrs. W. Phillips, 3437-J.

St. Ursula Seniors Hold Annual Prom

Cadets of the Cardinal Farley Military Academy at Rhinecliff were the guest escorts of the Marygrove students at their prom.

The school cafeteria was decorated for this occasion with palms and chrysanthemums, and blue and white streamers with a crescent moon and pendant stars added for glittering lustre.

The chaperons for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gormley and Mr. and Mrs. William O'Reilly.

The committee in charge of the arrangements included: Decorations—Jeannine Ryan, chairman; assisted by Dolores Bruck, Ann Dittmar, Catherine Gormley, Bernice Grecious, Joyce Halloran, June Lowe, Elizabeth McCord, Mary Jane McSpirit, Mary Jane Medve, Ellen Roach, Joan Snyder, Eileen Steltz, Carol Ann Thornton and Carol Whalen.

Music and program — Patricia O'Reilly, chairman, assisted by Elizabeth Lawrence, Cornelia Roach and Barbara Stalter.

Refreshments—Mary Katherine Eselby, chairman; assisted by Kathleen Gibbons, Margaret Glennon, Margaret Gormley, Patricia McCaffrey, Ella Mehlig, Jean Peacock, Genevieve Riela, Josephine Tecce.

After the dance the students were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Eselby at their home on Lafayette avenue.

Booths to Include Various Articles For Christmas Gifts

Committees for the many boths and activities at the Christmast Fair at the Old Dutch Church, Friday, Dec. 4, were announced today.

Mrs. Herbert D. Johnson and Mrs. Hamilton Boyd, Jr., are co-chairmen of the bazaar and will be assisted by the seven circles which compose the Women's Guild of the Old Dutch Church.

The cafeteria supper which will be served Friday evening is under the supervision of the Eindracht Circle, with Mrs. Kenneth Martin as chairman.

Baked goods will be collected and sold under the direction of Mrs. Hiram Whitney and the Social Service Circle.

Mrs. DeWitt Wells and the Bethany Circle will preside over a booth featuring handkerchiefs, popcorn balls, religious and children's books, and special children's records.

The Choir Mothers Circle under Mrs. Richard Holbrook and Mrs. Charles Horne, co-chairmen, will have a booth featuring candy, jewelry and toys.

Mrs. Edward DeWitt and the Dorcas Circle will have an arrangement of quality crochet work and knitwear, hooked rugs and imported scarves.

Colorful handmade aprons will be sold at the booth presided over by Mrs. James Loughran of the Henrietta Wynkoop Circle.

The House and Manse committee under the direction of Mrs. Clarence Beehler is responsible for the giant Christmas tree and the gaily wrapped gifts beneath it.

The public is cordially invited to browse and shop and take advantage of this opporunity for getting choice gifts for Christmas time.

St. Paul's Services Tonight

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, 355 Hasbrouck avenue, will hold a special Thanksgiving service tonight at 7:45. The sermon by the pastor, the Rev. Lars H. Lillestolen, will be Count All Your Blessings! Everyone is cordially invited.

About 50,000 people are employed in the Swiss watch industry.

Successful Graduates of Weight Reduction Class

In a concentrated program under the direction of the Ulster County Health Association conducted this fall, weight-conscious women have been able to slim down to healthier and happier proportions.

Proud of their accomplishments are Mrs. Barbara Terpening of Rifton, who lost 19½ pounds; Mrs. Dora Weeks, Kingston, minus 21½ pounds; and Mrs. Katherine Eaton, Kingston, less 11¾ pounds, through the sensible program of the class. At the health office are, seated, left to right, Miss Mary Mossman, health education assistant at the Ulster County TB and Health Association, and Mrs. Terpening; standing, in the same order, Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. Weeks and Miss Katherine Murphy, executive secretary of the Ulster County TB and Health Association. (Freeman photo)

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

WHEN A MAN PAYS GIRL'S LOSSES

This question is from a young woman who asks: "When a man takes his "date" to a friend's house and they play cards, is it up to him to reimburse the girl for any losses she may sustain? A friend of mine insists that he should do this, since if he had taken her anywhere else the expense of the evening would have been his and, therefore, he should assume this expense. Your opinion on this matter would be appreciated."

If she is an expert player who habitually plays for these same stakes, she keeps her winnings or pays her losses—as she does everywhere. If she is a novice, or in any case does not habitually play for money, he assumes her obligations and pays her losses or keeps her winnings. This must, of course, be understood before beginning the game.

Gloved Hand Quite Proper

Dear Mrs. Post: The other afternoon at our group meeting, one of the members who had been away for some time went around the room shaking hands with the other members on her arrival. She was wearing gloves but did not remove them until after she was seated. Don't you think she should have removed her gloves before shaking hands?

Answer: If it was a perfectly fresh glove, it was more correct to keep it on to shake hands than to take it off. As a matter of fact, at a really formal party gloves are exacted.

Nonalcoholic Toast

Dear Mrs. Post: In a discussion the other evening the subject of drinking toasts came up. One of the individuals insisted that it is improper to drink a toast to anyone in anything but an alcoholic beverage. He was immediately pounced upon by several teatotalers who said that it was equally proper to drink a toast in a nonalcoholic beverage. Will you please settle this difference of opinion for us?

Answer: Although usually drunk in a stronger beverage, there is certainly no impropriety in drinking a toast in a beverage that is nonalcoholic.

Is it proper to cut a leafy salad with a knife or should one use a fork? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail but her leaflet E-19, "Table Rules of Importance," includes this rule. University Women Report on Speakers

The Kingston Branch of the American Association of University Women has released a report of recent activities of the organization as presented at the November meeting, held at the home of Miss Ione Kinkade.

Mrs. Ruth Preston, president, Isabella Malone and Mary McCullough attended the workshop in Peekskill Saturday, Oct. 17, where Dr. Phoebe Morrison from national headquarters gave a scholarly presentation of the Bricker amendment, reported the delegates.

Miss Mary Rose Dempsey, a native of Kingston, attended the national convention in Minneapolis in June, as a delegate from the Peekskill Branch and gave a report to the members of the Kingston Branch on the work of the convention.

Mrs. Ruth Preston was the speaker of the evening on the subject, An International Challenge. Emphasizing the fifth freedom which college women possess, the freedom of the mind, Mrs. Preston cited the need for fellowship to continue the work of colleges in training in international-mindedness. She cited her experience with educators and business people while she was abroad as a delegate to the International Fellowship of University Women Congress in Zurich, Switzerland.

Legion Auxiliary Supports Wooden Church Program

At the monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Kingston Unit No. 150, Mrs. Andrew Murphy, president, reported that a $25 donation had been made for the Wooden Church Program.

This is a project to construct wooden churches along the Iron Curtain as a spiritual wall against communism. These wooden churches are to be built on or near sites of churches or synagogues which were destroyed during World War II.

Reporting on the Legion Ball held recently, Mrs. Murphy on behalf of the auxiliary, has presented the Legion with a check for $80 as their proceeds from the ball.

The auxiliary will make donations to the welfare fund at Castle Point and the Christmas Cheer Committee of Kingston.

It was announced that gifts are still needed for the Christmas Gift Shop at the Albany Veterans Hospital. Anyone desiring to donate any gifts may leave them at the Legion building, 18 West O'Reilly street.

Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held at the next meeting, Monday, Dec. 14. The refreshment committee will be as follows: Mrs. Clarence Ryan, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Anna Schmidt, and Mrs. Harry Whitney.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Joseph Garland and Miss Marjorie Garland will spend Thanksgiving with friends in Scarsdale.

Miss Jean Milliken is spending the Thanksgiving vacation from Colby Junior College, New London, N. H., with her parents, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Albert E. Milliken of Hurley avenue, and will entertain Miss Jane Shoemaker and Miss Agnes Siegfried of Buffalo.

Mrs. Alexis Kosloff of Woodstock celebrated her birthday at the Gov. Clinton Hotel recently. The Alexis Kosloff School of Ballet entertained with a special dance program. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kosloff who officiated at the cutting of a birthday cake.

Miss Rose Abernethy of the Speech Faculty of New Paltz State Teachers College will spend Thanksgiving vacation as the guest of Miss Ann Campana of Niles, Ohio. Miss Abernethy leaves for Cleveland via United Air Lines early Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Greenwald, who are vacationing in Bermuda, had grandstand seats along with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cook, of Colonial Airlines, to watch the parade and reception for Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh held yesterday in Hamilton, Bermuda. The Greenwalds are expected to return from Bermuda sometime this week.

Miss Janet C. Gruver, Waves, USN, will arrive from Washington today to spend Thanksgiving Day at her home in Hurley.

Mrs. Gebhard Wuest Advises on Starting Small Business

The Lomontville Home Bureau met Friday at the Community Hall with a luncheon prepared under the direction of the food leader, Mrs. Henry Rygh.

In the afternoon, other Home Bureau members from Hurley, Stone Ridge and Kingston joined the group to hear Mrs. Gebhard Wuest give a talk on Starting a Small Business.

Mrs. Wuest told how she and her husband started their bakery featuring specialty breads, cakes and cookies ten years ago and followed the progress of the business up to the present time.

Starting with two bread pans and a small oven in a kitchen stove, they now employ five bakers. "To be successful," she said, "one must be willing to suffer hardships, have courage, and perseverance."

She made the following suggestions: specialize in one item; get a start by contacting people, store proprietors, managers or buyers; have attractive packaging; compare prices of similar items and always deliver goods promptly.

Following the talk, tea was served, with the table decorated in keeping with the Thanksgiving holiday. Mrs. Will Kohler and Mrs. Raymond LeFevre poured, assisted by Mrs. Karlton Bowers and Mrs. Gordon Eckert.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Maple Manor

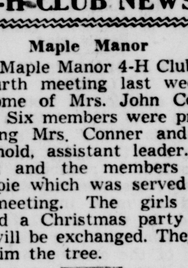

The Maple Manor 4-H Club held its fourth meeting last week at the home of Mrs. John Conner, leader. Six members were present including Mrs. Conner and Mrs. R. Arnold, assistant leader. Mrs. Arnold and the members made pizza pie which was served after the meeting. The girls have planned a Christmas party when gifts will be exchanged. They also will trim the tree.

Lions Are Told Of Farm Problems

Problems which face the dairy farmer were outlined at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Lions Club by Norman Kellar, attorney who was born and raised on a farm and had his own herd which he sold only a year and a half ago.

Kellar, whose home is in New Paltz, is associated with the law firm of Cashin & Ewig in this city.

Contending that the dairy farmer is not getting a fair return for his work and investment, Kellar cited figures to show that the average dairyman with average amount of labor saving equipment can produce 100 pounds of milk for every two hours of his own labor, getting a return of 55 cents an hour. Even with ideal conditions—better than average cows and very good equipment—the return is only about 73 cents an hour, and if the farmer's herd is composed of poor cows the return may drop to 43 cents an hour.

He explained that although the farmer gets 12 cents a quart for his "Class 1" milk—that sold in quarts as fresh milk to the consumer—he must accept prices from nine cents for milk used for cream down to four cents a quart for milk used as cheese and butter.

At the same time, Kellar contended, the milk companies "have been doing very well." The two major companies are National Dairies and the Borden Company, he said, and they showed profits of $25,500,000 and $19,500,000, respectively, in 1946, he pointed out.

In other manufacturing industries, the manufacturer figures his costs, adds a fair profit and arrives at his selling price, Kellar said. The dairy farmer, however, delivers his milk to a milk company " and hopes he will be paid a fair price."

Kellar blamed the farmer's plight on "nineteenth century thinking," the lack of a "true farm press," and the fact that the farmer's long working day keeps him from getting around and talking his problems over with his neighbors.

Children's books were in use in Europe before the invention of printing, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Hotel Corpse Identified As Resident of Queens

New York, Nov. 25 (AP)—A man found dead in the Hotel Chesterfield yesterday was identified by police as Robert Golfarb, of Queens.

Police said Golfarb, 47, who lived at 76-10 34th avenue, Jackson Heights, was found dead in bed at 5:10 p. m. (EST) by the hotel's assistant manager, Arthur Vigneaux.

The cause of his death was not disclosed at once, as a medical examiner will conduct an examination.

Police said they found pills in a waste paper basket and there was a note in the room. Its contents were not disclosed.

Golfarb had registered at the hotel early yesterday morning. In registering he gave 1697 Broadway as his business address.

A Max Golfarb theatricals firm is listed at that address.

Increase Is Favored

Syracuse, Nov. 25 (AP)—The House of Delegates of the State Teachers Assn. favors an increase of at least $500 in minimum salaries of public school instructors. At the concluding session last night of the three-day annual convention, the delegates adopted a resolution calling for a minimum annual wage of $3,600 for new teachers and $8,500 for experienced personnel. The resolution also recommended that death and disability benefits be increased.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Last couple of days I received a number of old Freemans. They were brought to me and sent to me yet names of senders not given. I appreciate all of them. One group is a collection of Freemans of various years, but mostly all of the Jan. 1 issues giving the summation of events of the entire year. Another one is the coverage of the formal opening of the Rondout Creek Bridge. One issue of Friday night, Jan. 1, 1937 I read the following coal prices of washed and screened guaranteed 2,000 lbs. coal sold by C. Jackson of Taylor street. Pea coal was $8.75 a ton, the popular chestnut was $10.25 as were egg, stove, etc.

Running down through some of the events of January 1937 I see on the 10th, the annual ball of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association was held at the Auditorium. On the 11th the late Mace Gerber of Meadow street became secretary to Senator Wicks at Albany. On Jan. 14, Vincent A. Gorman, one of Kingston's leading merchants, died suddenly at his Albany avenue home. On the 20th, Kingston was busy digging out from under a heavy blizzard with the help of some 300 men and 100 trucks and even then only partial bus service was resumed. Who remembers that blizzard? From then on I see right on into February the weather seemed to either stay close to zero or below it, with heavy snow and wind every few days. The Hudson river was still locked tight to navigation with ice three feet thick Feb. 8 and six inches of snow falling Feb. 9. Steamer Robert A. Snyder sank in Saugerties creek Feb. 20. In between other news and the weather such items as the following appear every month, so it seems: "Common council held public hearing on proposed plan to eliminate Broadway crossing by depressing street. Many spoke in opposition to plan and none in favor." I wonder what those opposing then, think of it today. On Feb. 25 the folks of Kingston were beginning to notice "brown snow" which they say was attributed to dust particles blown more than 2,000 miles from the dust bowl of the west.

March brought an interesting incident which perhaps was photographed at the time. March 2, four deer crossed river ice from Dutchess county to Kingston Point. Also on March 1, the new eight-hour day for our local police went into effect, and Robert F. Murphy assumed duties as a policeman. The Ulster and Delaware railroad shop on the Strand was beginning to be demolished March 9, 1937. The weather took more space than other news although it was still cold, rains came on March 11. The flood water in Rondout creek swept about 25 tugs, barges and other vessels from moorings, jamming mouth of creek where ice gorge formed. The Kingston streets were flooded at various places and the famous tug, Rob, sank. The Jan. 12 item said that in Rosendale, residents were using row boats on the main street. Slides blocked roads in various parts of the county.

For those who lived high up to be safe from the floods but who could see the creek, no doubt saw lots of excitement, as the Tug Hart salvaged all of the fleet of boats swept away in the flood in the Rondout creek, with the exception of one which had sunk.

Making Tests in Hunt For Child's Slayer

Tokyo, Nov. 25 (AP)—Army investigators said today they are making laboratory tests which may show whether the brutal slayer of 9-year-old Susan Rothschild was Japanese or Caucasion.

The army said strands of hair, not her own, were found on the body of the little girl who was strangled and thrown into a drainage ditch Saturday evening.

There was no evidence of rape but the pretty child had apparently been choked to death by the bare hands of her slayer.

Her father, Col. Jacquard Rothschild of Chicago, found the little girl's body in the ditch near their home in an army housing area.

American criminal investigation agents have headed the investigation. There have been a handful of reports that an American soldier was seen in the area.

The discovery of the human hair on the young girl's body was the first concrete clue. The army gave no preliminary announcement of results of the laboratory tests.

PITCHING HORSESHOES

By BILLY ROSE

THE BOY WHO WANTS TO BE ME

Things are tough all over, as witness the first paragraph of a letter which arrived in the mail this morning from a Mrs. Emma Bennesey of Baltimore:

"Dear Sir,

"I am not in the habit of writing to perfect strangers, but my son Norman, aged 13, is molding his life after yours and says he wants to be the Billy Rose of 1975. Frankly, I don't know what to do . . ."

In her five-page letter, Mrs. Bennesey goes on to give me a case history of the lad. It seems that when he was ten he read "Wine, Women and Words," a book of my columns which contained a good deal of biographical material, and which stressed the importance of publicity in the career of a showman.

Inspired, if that's the word, Norman immediately set out to make his name known to all and sundry. The opening gun in his quest for self-identification was an innocent-enough prank — he painted up a sandwich board saying, "I Am A Backward Boy," and walked backwards all the way from Baltimore to Annapolis.

A local paper ran a picture of Norman and his sandwich board and, encouraged by this publicity, the lad began dreaming up other gimmicks. The next two stunts, however, didn't work out so well. First off, he lost his job as manager of his eighth-grade basketball team when he had programs printed up reading, "NORMAN BENNESEY presents his five Baltimore Tigers — Count 'Em." A month later, he lost his paper route when he red-stamped the front pages so they read, "NORMAN BENNESEY presents the Baltimore Sun."

A more recent incident, and evidently the one which prompted Mrs. Bennesey to write her letter, was of a more devious nature. Norman, having read that I owned a collection of antique silver, hit on a plan which he figured would make him rich overnight. His notion was to walk into a bank with a storage battery in one hand and a small vacuum cleaner in the other. At the teller's window, he would announce it was a stick-up, thrust the vacuum head between the bars of the cage, and suck up all the paper money in the cash drawer.

As soon as the boy had worked out the details of this operation, he wrote the president of a vacuum cleaner company, pointing out it would be fine publicity for the company's product, and suggesting it sponsor him. The president wrote back promptly—and according to Mrs. Bennesey it was a kindly letter. If Norman, he said, promised on his Scout's honor not to carry out his plan, the company would send him a check big enough to pay for psychiatric treatment for a whole year.

As of now, writes the mother, her son is working on a brand new project—polka-dot paint. The way Mrs. Bennesey describes it, you paint over a surface with a brush, and an hour later the surface is all over polka dots.

In her concluding paragraph, the lady from Baltimore says, "Norman thinks it would make it a lot easier for him to become the Billy Rose of 1975 if you would will him your name when you pass away. He is so serious about this that he says if you don't do it, he'll come to New York and release his flea circus in your theatre. My problem is, should I encourage Norman and give him his head (my husband says I should make that 'give him his two heads'), or do you think I ought to accept the check from the company and take him to a psychiatrist . . .?"

This ominous letter, as the saying goes, gave me pause, but after taking a cold shower I managed to answer it as follows:

"Dear Mrs. Bennesey,

"In answer to yours of the 18th inst., please inform your son that he has no chance of being the Billy Rose of 1975. That exalted station I have reserved for myself.

"As for your immediate problem, I doubt whether a psychiatrist is the answer. My considered recommendation is that you take Norman and the first pussycat you can find to Chesapeake Bay. When you get there, push them both off the dock. Three minutes later, fish out the cat.

"Believe me, madam — and I know whereof I speak — you're much better off with a wet pussycat, than with a kid who wants to be Billy Rose."

What's the big difference in these pictures?

The cables these telephone men are splicing look alike. They're made of the same materials. And both cables do the same job. But there's one big difference you can't see. It's what inflation has done to the price of cable and nearly all telephone equipment.

In 1940, a hundred feet of the cable in the picture on your left cost $152.00. But today, this same size cable—in the picture on your right—costs us about twice as much. And that's just one example of how inflation has hit us.

The telephone poles that support the cable, the motor trucks we use, the central office buildings we need, cost at least twice what they did in 1940. Taxes, wages—in fact, everything required to bring you telephone service—cost a lot more today.

Everyone feels inflation. Your cost of living is up 92% since 1940. Ours is 'way up, too. Yet, during the same period, the average price of telephone service has increased only 16%.

As a result, our expenses have increased at a faster rate than our revenues. Operating efficiencies and technical improvements have narrowed this gap, but they fall far short of closing it.

We think these facts speak for themselves—especially since telephone service throughout the State is faster, more dependable, more useful than ever before.

How Telephone Company costs have gone up since 1940

Lead up	163%	Cable up	105%
Poles up	140%	Raw cotton up	225%
Copper up	146%	Buildings up	112%

yet phone service is up an average of only 16%

—more for some, less for others, of course, depending on the type of service and the use made of it.

Alston Promised Long Career If He Makes Grade

Brooklyn, Nov. 25 (AP)—Walter (Smokey) Alston, new Brooklyn Dodger pilot, will not be an interim manager.

Dodger president Walter F. O'Malley stressed that point with special emphasis today, going to great lengths to explain that "no one will be breathing down his neck. The job is his . . . for many years to come . . . I hope."

Alston, a comparative unknown, was named to succeed Charlie Dressen yesterday after Peewee Reese, shortstop and captain of the Dodgers, had declined the role of a playing manager. The contract is for one year at an estimated $25,000 salary.

The 42-year-old resident of Oxford, Ohio, a manager in the Dodger farm system for 8½ years, saw the briefest of service in the major leagues. He appeared in one game and was at bat only one time. That was in 1936 as a member of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"I got up only one time," he recalled with a smile. "Lon Warneke was pitching. I fouled off a couple then struck out. We had Johnny Mize, Rip Collins and Dick Siebert so I just had 'a cup of coffee.'"

Promise for Reese

O'Malley frankly voiced his concern that Alston would be looked upon in certain quarters as an interim manager, filling in only until Reese was ready to take over the managerial reins.

"That definitely is not so," he declared. "Reese is a fine, understanding and wonderful person. We think the world of him. He will always have a job with us. If Reese wants to manage when his playing career is over, we will give him an opportunity to manage in our minor league organization. Or he may start out on top—but it would have to be with another big league club.

"Alston is the logical man to succeed Dressen. His promotion, in line with our policy of rewarding our own men, is a justification of his record in the Dodger organization. He has the character, know-how and the ability. He is a sound baseball man. The boys (vice presidents E. J. Bavasi, Fresco Thompson and scouts Andy High and Red Corriden) were all unanimous in selecting Walter."

Schneider Big Star

Delivers Two Key Baskets at Finish

The 50 Club has captured the Autumn League "B" championship after a thrilling 77-74 victory over Back's Cedaraps in last night's playoff on the Y court.

And Joe Schneider is being hailed as the hero of the night.

It was Schneider's driving layup with 35 seconds remaining that sent the 50 Club ahead 75-74. Back's went into a semi-freeze hoping for a final shot at the basket but Jack Houghtaling intercepted a pass and fired the ball to Schneider who went under for another deuce to widen the lead to 77-74 with 2 seconds left.

Even though the Cedaraps went down to defeat, Jerry Kaplan (26 points) deserved credit for his terrific performance. He was by far the best player on the floor, scoring sets from midcourt and driving in for brilliant layup shots. It wasn't until late in the fourth period that the 50 Club was able to handle him with any success.

The contest followed a strange pattern. After a sizzling 33-33 standoff at the intermission, Back's moved ahead 58-51 with a 25-18 margin in the third quarter but the 50 Club rallied in the clutch for a 26-16 bulge in the stretch.

Schneider Hits 22

Schneider and Houghtaling were the 50 Club's scoring aces with 22 and 21 points respectively. Jim Woods aided with 17.

Kaplan's 26 points for Back's were the result of 11 fields and four fouls. Huyler Van Wagenen dumped 14 points and Red Hinkley contributed 14.

Valley Gardens Cops Y Prelim

Two new YMCA winter league entries—Valley Gardens and Ellenville—played the preliminary to the big game last night, the Gardens racking up a decisive 51-33 victory.

An unbelievable 23-0 margin in the third period broke the game wide open.

Cliff Schoonmaker hooped 20 points and Byron Lawrence hit 17 for the Gardens. Anders Anderson's 11 markers paced Ellenville.

The score:

Valley Gardens (51) — Byron Lawrence f 17, Cliff Schoonmaker f 20, Don Schoonmaker c 8, Dick Sheils g 2, Percy Greene g 4.

Ellenville (33)—Bob Shear f 1, Bernie Reiter f 6, Harris Marcus c 7, Sandy Zirt g 8, Anders Anderson g 11, Harold Horton g.

Players With One Thought in Mind — Beat Newburgh!

Rival Teams Are 'Up' For Non-Title Contest

Kingston High sends its once-beaten gridiron warriors against Newburgh Academy Thanksgiving Day at municipal stadium in a game steeped with sentiment and tradition.

Kickoff time is 2 p. m. with Kingston rated a slight favorite. The game is the 40th between the schools since 1922.

The 1953 DUSO title has long since passed to the mighty Blues of Poughkeepsie, but Coach Bill Burke's Maroons are bent on a mission of revenge.

There was plenty to keep Kingston High "up" for this one. First there was the bitter memory of crushing losses to NFA in 1951 and 1952.

Then there is Coach Burke's brilliant record of having lost only one game in the last five years at municipal stadium, the 1951 debacle with the Goldbacks. In the past eight seasons, Burke-coached squads have been whipped only three times.

Pep Rally Tonight

The high school students still accorded "big game" rating to the impending clash. The usual parade to municipal stadium starts from the high school at 7 p. m. At the stadium there will be a bonfire and rally.

Shorn of its great stars, Newburgh has had a rough season, dropping five straight after a 20-19 squeaker over Oyster Bay in the seasonal opener. Kingston goes into the game with a 5-1 record.

Kingston defeated Highland 36-6, Port Jervis 20-0, Curtis High 26-18, Middletown 20-0, Valley Stream 7-6, before losing to Poughkeepsie, 7-27.

After shading Oyster Bay in the opener, 20-19, Newburgh lost to NYMA 46-0, Poughkeepsie 44-12 tied Port Jervis, 6-6; lost to Mont Pleasant 19-6 and Middletown, 13-12.

Burke Is Wary

Newburgh reports that Goldback adherents would consider it a "moral victory" if they held Kingston under 40 points was ridiculed by Coach Burke this morning.

"They have an improving ball club and will be way 'up' for this one," he said. "Furthermore, the turf is heavy at municipal stadium and if it rains over night, we'll have tough going."

Burke recalled watching Newburgh travel 65 yards from the kickoff to a TD against Port Jervis on a series of quick openers.

"A victory tomorrow would save their season," Burke went on, "and they'll be fighting for their lives."

Early, long range weather reports are not encouraging. Cloudy with showers was today's prediction. The forecast for tonight was cloudy, windy and colder with snow flurries likely in this area tomorrow.

NFA Has Big Lead

Newburgh has a 23-13 edge in victories, with three ties going into Thursday's climactic clash. The Goldbacks have won 8 DUSO titles and shared five others. Kingston has captured five conference championships and shared two others.

Several of Kingston's starting regulars will be playing their last high school game, among them John Turck, Ray Gallo, Leroy Scheffer, Louis Kuntz, Bill Ritter, Roger Billings and Ray Roux.

Port-Middies In 60th Game For Erie Bell

Port Jervis and Middletown High meet for the 60th time in football Thanksgiving Day at 11 a. m. at Wilson Field.

The game is being played in the morning for the first time in 43 years. Officials of the two schools decided this year that a morning game would fit in better with the Thanksgiving Day schedule of residents of the two cities.

The Erie Railroad will present a large locomotive bell to be presented annually to the football team winning the traditional game.

The bell, weighing nearly 300 pounds and four feet in height mounted on a mahogany base, will be turned over to representatives of the two schools at assemblies held Tuesday morning at each school.

The game is rated a tossup.

Bevo on Trial In Buffalo Game

Buffalo, Nov. 25 (AP)—Clarence "Bevo" Francis puts his wares on display here tomorrow night before a houseful of college basketball fans who are among the most critical in the nation.

Bevo and his mates from little Rio Grande are the headliners in the first doubleheader of the 1953-54 season in Buffalo's 12,000-seat Memorial Auditorium.

Actually, coach Newt Oliver's lads probably won't get a real test here, except that they'll be playing before fans who are used to the best the college game has to offer.

Rio Grande meets Erie Tech, a two-year school. In the other half of the program, Canisius opens its season against Western Ontario.

Bevo, a 6-9 giant who startled the basketball world with 1,954 points last year, is embarking on a season that should prove whether he is truly a basketball phenomenon.

Neil Johnston Takes NBA Lead

By The Associated Press

Neil Johnston, the Philadelphia Warriors' lanky center, was out in front today in quest of his second straight National Basketball Association scoring title.

The 6-8 blond passed George Mikan of the Minneapolis Lakers last night by scoring 30 points as the Warriors defeated the Baltimore Bullets 83-80. Johnston now has 269 points in 12 games to Mikan's 265 in 14. Ray Felix was high for Baltimore with 18 points.

The eastern division leading New York Knickerbockers trounced the Boston Celtics 103-92 and now have a record of 11 victories and two defeats for a percentage of .846.

In the only other game the Syracuse Nationals trimmed the Rochester Royals 89-80.

Five Knicks scored in double figures, Vince Boryla taking the honors with 20 points. Harry Gallatin scored 19 while Connie Simmons had 17. Carl Braun and Dick McGuire each had 14.

Bob Cousy was the scoring star for the Celtics with 24 points. Bill Sharman had 19 and Easy Ed McCauley tallied 18.

Paul Seymour counted 23 points as the Nationals won their second victory of the season over the Royals. Bob Lavoy, newly acquired 6-7 forward, tallied 14 points. Bobby Wanzer was high for the losers with 14.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

Andy Dykes, the former Kingston High School basketball star, tells of an interesting conversation that took place recently at the Dykes dinner table.

The heir had heard a high school assembly speaker refer to the prowess of one of Coach G. Warren Kias' greatest teams—perhaps the finest—the 1933 squad.

"How good was this team, dad," the young heir asked Andy, now of the postal department.

"A great one," replied the father. And then went on to fill in the details. They were hallowed deeds, indeed, of a once-beaten DUSO championship team that whipped Port Jervis, Middletown and Newburgh by identical scores of 13-6.

It was a team that had such great heroes as Tony Debrosky, Cowboy Evory, Zip Zaccheo, Eddie Burgevin, Mac Tiano, Jase Cullum and Emil Noce, who gave his life for his country at Pearl Harbor.

There were other stalwarts in this terrific aggregation that gave Kingston its first victory over Newburgh in 10 years . . . Morgan Ryan, Hal Ferguson, Frank Every, Bill Van Derzee, Cliff Van Valkenburgh, Harold Baltz, Elmer Hopper, Willard Saehloff, Harry Fertel. And Ken Saunders, Don Hyatt, Fitzgerald, Wilmer Buddenhagen, Chet Barth and Arthur A. Davis, the housing administrator.

Burgevin, a lithe ghost, Tiano, a crashing runner and Cullum, one of the great all-round players in KHS history were the big guns in the backfield. Up front, Debrosky, Evory, Zaccheo, Ryan struck terror in opposing teams.

The 1933 season opened with a 39-0 victory at Monticello where Burgevin romped for three TDs.

A week later, the Maroons walloped a good Peekskill High eleven, 18-0, as Burgevin, Tiano and Cullum scored touchdowns. Peekskill beat Poughkeepsie 19-0 that year.

Then came the crusher, a 6-0 loss to Mont Pleasant of Schenectady, a game that was literally "stolen" from Kingston. A young man who later earned fame and adulation as a professional basketbal player in Kingston, Corky Stanton, scored the winning TD for the Red Raiders that day.

Midway in the second period, Stanton raced 40 yards to the Kingston 5 but the Maroon forwards refused to budge an inch on four slams by MP. Tiano kicked from behind his goal line to the 50 where Burgevin recovered a fumble and raced to the Mont Pleasant 25. Cullum hit Burgevin with a pass on the 11 but there the drive stalled. A while later Kingston was to suffer two heartbreaks. They had first down on the MP 1-yard line when the half ended. Later Eddie Burgevin raced 50 yards across the goal line but the officials ruled he had stepped out of bounds on the 35. Many Mont Pleasant adherents standing on the sidelines claimed the referees had pulled a "homer."

Burgevin's smash from the 3 insured a 6-0 victory over Poughkeepsie in a bruiser at Memorial Field after KHS stopped the Blues on the 3 in the third period.

Poughkeepsie had taken its celebrated "walk" from the DUSO some 10 years earlier and the conference championship was a three-game affair among Kingston, Middletown, Newburgh and Port Jervis.

Middletown scored in the first period to go ahead 6-0 on a 50-yard march sparked by Gippy Nania's passing. Mac Tiano broke loose for 60 yards then circled right end from the 6 to tie the score. In the fourth quarter, Burgevin raced 20 yards to the 1-foot marker and Cullum crashed over.

Like the Middies, Port Jervis scored in the first period to lead 6-0 but Jase Cullum rallied with his biggest day of the season. After Tiano slipped off tackle for 42 yards behind devastating blocking to the Port 20, Cullum circled right end to score standing up. The payoff TD was a 35-yard pass play from Cullum to Willard Saehloff.

The DUSO schedule was broken up with a 20-6 romp over a powerful Raymond Riordan Prep eleven in which Elmer Hopper, a backfield sub for the ailing Burgevin, scored twice and Ken Saunders, another sub, accounted for the third TD. The team had depth and power.

Then came Newburgh Academy, winners nine straight years over Kingston and 1932 DUSO champions. It was a bright, brilliant afternoon at the old Fair Grounds and the KHS football star never shone brighter.

Little Art Davis played the game of his life to shine along with Tiano and Cullum. Debrosky, Zaccheo and Evory were overwhelming in the line. Kingston marched 80 yards for its first score after Tiano went 40 yards from the Kingston 20 and then 19. Cullum slammed over from the 1-foot line. Zaccheo returned the second half kickoff to the Kingston 34 and the Maroons didn't stop until Cullum sneaked around end from the 8 for the second TD. Bucky Armour, an All-DUSO, tallied the NFA marker in the third period.

The score doesn't begin to tell the story. The Kingston tackling was vicious and several NFA players were hauled out on stretchers in that bruising finish. Kingston moved to the NFA 10 late in the fourth period when a pass interception stopped them.

That all happened 20 years ago tomorrow.

In the words of Harry Marble, what kind of a day was it?

A beautiful day . . . like a KHS victory can make it tomorrow at municipal stadium.

King Meets Chavez In TV Bout Tonight

San Francisco, Nov. 25 (AP)—Canadian lightweight title holder Arthur King of Toronto squares off with fast punching Eddie Chavez in a 10-round fight tonight which may propel the winner into a favorable position for a future world championship go.

Chavez, 23-year-old California Mexican from San Jose, is ranked fifth among the world's leading 135-pounders. King is rated ninth.

The bout will be nationally televised out of Winterland Arena starting at 10 p. m. EST, by CBS.

Chavez, a busy ringman who lets fly with flurries of punches, is the favorite hereabouts. He scored a non-title 10-round decision over champion Jimmy Carter early this year.

Miami Beach, Fla. — Holly Mims, 155¼, Washington, outpointed Jimmy Welch, 155½, Columbus, Ohio, 10.

Markowitz's 634 Blast Highest Tenpin Series

Seymour Markowitz, who made the Big 10 last week, was the city's top shooter last night with a 634 blast in the Good Neighbor League. He knocked off solos of 173-226-235.

John Howard's 251 solo and 626 series (226-148-251) in the Booster League was second best.

Irving Wheatcroft spanked 210 high single in the Electrol Night League and Howard Brooks wrapped up 30-frame honors with 184-172-182-538.

Earl Sleight's 216 led the solo department of the Central Rec League, while Ray Zeeh's 189-206-202-597 took down series honors.

Federation International League finally came up with a kegler to beat Hod Spaulding as Robert Fatum rolled 199-210-158-567 to Spaulding's 554. Everett Wolven's 241 was high single.

In the National League, Doug Harvey posted 221 and Bil MacElveen reeled off 193-179-193-565.

George Newman's 208 and Vernon Freese's 535 (200-168-167) paced the Chalet Leaders at Rosendale.

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

A regular meeting of Charles DeWitt Council, 91, JOUAM, will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry street. Refreshments and a social hour will follow the business meeting. All members are requested to attend.

Anderson Is Arrested

Robert M. Anderson, 26, Box 162, Sauerties, was arrested at 1:52 a. m., today by Officers William Slover and Everett Emmick on charges of speeding on the East Chester street by-pass and for passing a red light. He forfeited $20 bail through failure to appear before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today.

Auto Hits Pole, House Damaged; Hurley Vols Called

A car went out of control early this morning near Four Corners in the Town of Hurley and swerved into a telephone pole, according to a report in the Ulster County Sheriff's Office.

Walter Scharp, 42, of Walton's road, RD4, Kingston, told Deputy Albert Eisele he was proceeding along Joy's Lane toward Lucas avenue extension when his front left wheel hit a hole in the road, blowing out the tire and causing the car to swerve to the left shoulder. He said the car continued for about 50 yards on the left shoulder, then swung suddenly back across the road and into the pole.

Reports No Injuries

Scharp reported no injuries.

The entire front end, left side and top of the car was damaged, according to the report.

Eisele said wire insulators and a piece of siding were pulled from the side of a home occupied by Mrs. Henry Harvey.

The accident was first reported to Central Fire Station, Kingston, as a car fire. The Hurley Fire Company was notified at 12:37 a. m. and responded. It could not be verified through official sources this morning whether fire accompanied the accident.

The normal body is seven and one-half times the height of the head, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Glass of Wine Wins Divorce for Model

San Francisco, Nov. 25 (AP)—The judge leaned forward yesterday when Billie Infante, a pretty model seeking a divorce from her husband, Anthony, testified:

"Once he immerged me in wine."

"Immerged you in what?" Judge I. L. Harris shot back.

"In wine."

"Oh, how did he do it?"

"Poured it over my head."

"In other words, he didn't dunk you in a bathtub or anything. Was it red or white wine?"

"As a matter of fact, it was red."

"A bottle or a glass?"

"A glass."

"Not exactly total immersion, then," the judge said, winding up the matter.

Divorce granted.

Survey Shows Low School Salaries Affect Morale

Adopting as their slogan, "a professional salary for professional services", the Kingston Teachers' Federation is conducting a study of teachers' salaries in comparison with those of other professions and the effect that this situation is having upon the community.

This study reveals that a beginning teacher in the Kingston schools with three years' experience has a take-home pay of about $43 a week, based on a 52 year week, while a teacher with over 30 years experience has a take-home pay of about $58.50 a week. In contrast a carpenter, regardless of years of experience, has a take-home pay of at least $94.30.

Further, the study reveals that a master's degree, which is now mandatory for teachers entering secondary school work, represents an investment of at least $5000. Under the present salary schedule it would take a teacher 25 years to realize any returns on the additional $5000 investment in his or her education.

Charts Prepared

Charts have also been prepared contrasting the salaries of teachers with those of industrial workers over the past 20 years. In 1933 the average teacher's income in New York state was $1227, while production workers in manufacturing received $869. Ten years later incomes for industrial workers had risen to $2683, while teachers' incomes lagged at $1728.

Today the teacher in New York state has fallen even farther behind, averaging $3310, while industrial workers average $4385. The study further reveals that a net income of $4200 in 1952 bought less than a 1939 net income of $1800. In the past 10 years teachers' salaries have risen only 60 per cent as fast as other wages. Not a single classroom teacher in the United States who was teaching at top salary in 1939 will, in 1953, be receiving a take-home pay which will buy the same goods as the 1939 salary bought.

Have Lowest Morale

Lyle M. Spencer, former dean of Syracuse University School of Journalism and president of Science Research Association, Inc. reports that as the result of a survey conducted among 850 occupations including teaching, it was found that teachers have the lowest morale of any group in the survey. This he directly attributes to inadequate salaries now being paid teachers.

During the past 10 years 350,000 well trained and experienced teachers have left the field of education for positions offering better wages and better working conditions. The Federation feels that the critical situation now facing schools through out the country is explained by the fact that the percentage of national income spent for public education has declined 45 per cent in the past 25 years, with the rate still declining steadily.

Floatable Suit Reported

Washington, Nov. 25 (AP) — It may be a shock to the life guards, but there now is a bathing suit whose makers claim it will keep a non-swimming girl afloat. It was demonstrated here yesterday by a pretty model who floated like a cork while smiling like a pretty model. The manufacturer's representative wasn't talking about the substance that makes the suit buoyant. There are no unsinkable suits for men yet, he said.

The answers to everyday insurance problems

By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: Somebody remarked the other day that it would be foolish to pay for Household Theft insurance because if a person was willing to wait long enough, the stolen property would eventually be recovered. Can you tell be about this?

ANSWER: Insurance statistics show that with the exception of automobiles, only about twenty per cent of stolen property is ever recovered. This figure includes property recovered sometimes years after the theft is committed.

• If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.
